Civil Suit Is First In County History

A suit seeking $50,000 in damages for injuries suffered and loss of business due to an automobile-road grader accident was filed Wednesday and is apparently the first civil action brought against Randall County.

Plaintiff is William Leo Russell. County Judge Woody Pond was served notice of the suit Wednesday afternoon by sheriff's deputies.

Pond said to his knowledge the suit is the first one ever filed against the county.

Records in the county clerk's office indicate the suit is the first filed at least since 1950.

The suit was filed in 181st District Court.

Russell, in filing the suit, claims that on June 1, 1972, he was involved in a collision with a Randall County-owned road grader on a county road about 16 miles northwest of Canyon.

The suit alleges Russell was driving an automobile when a road grader driven by Harold Holliday, allegedly a county employee, backed into his vehicle.

"Plaintiff would show that at the time and place of said collision he had slowed his automobile to a stop in the right-hand lane of said roadway in order to permit said road grader, which was proceeding toward him from the opposite direction, to turn around in said road," the suit alleges. "That in the process of turning around to proceed in the opposite direction, the operator of the road grader backed up said road grader and proceeded to back into Plaintiff's automobile with great force and violence. As a result of such collision, Plaintiff was caused to suffer serious and permanent bodily injury and damages.

The plaintiff also alleges the driver of the grader was negligent in operating the grader and in failing to keep a proper lookout for other vehicles and in failing to stop before running over the automobile.

The suit alleges that due to the accident, Russell suffered severe bodily injury to his neck, back and

Commissioner Violates Travel Policy He Initiated

County Commissioner John Fulgenzi has violated a county policy he initiated earlier this year at least twice in the last three months by charging the county for airplane flights to Austin to lobby in the constitutional convention.

Records in the county auditor's office indicate county commissioners have approved at least one of the flights by signing payment vouchers. They have not gone on record in open court authorizing his trips.

In January, Fulgenzi introduced a motion allowing county officials 12 cents per mile and $30 per day for expenses on official county trips, trips such as those to various conferences and seminars. Commissioners have also gone on record declining to pay airline charges for various county officials wishing to attend conventions.

But, the records indicate Fulgenzi traveled to Austin and returned on Braniff flights on March 27 and again on May 22.

Commissioners signed a pay voucher for the March 27 flight and Fulgenzi was reimbursed for his travel expenses and a parking fee.

The March 27 flight cost the county $85.92 for a round-trip ticket and $1.25 for the parking fee.

The May 22 flight for which Fulgenzi has filed for reimbursement in county auditor's office cost the county $119.92 for a round-trip first-class ticket on a Braniff flight, plus $6.55 for meals and $1.25 for parking fee.

Both trips were connected with efforts to talk to delegates to the constitutional convention in Austin concerning passage of a judiciary article for the new constitution.

The Texas Almanac lists the distance between Amarillo and Austin as 485 miles.

If Fulgenzi had followed his own policy, he would have been reimbursed for 12 cents per mile and would have been allowed $30 for the one-day trips.

That means Fulgenzi would have been reimbursed $88.20 for each trip or $176.40 for both trips. If commissioners sign a voucher to pay for his May 22 trip, Fulgenzi will have been reimbursed $214.89 for both trips by airplane.

Fulgenzi as county commissioner receives a salary of $520 per month and receives a car allowance of $100 each month. He is not required to post an expense record on his car expenses.

Records in the county auditor's office indicate that neither County Judge Woody Pond nor County Commissioner Jim Fletcher, each of whom have made several trips to Austin in connection with the constitutional convention, have sought reimbursement of any kind for their travel expenses.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said if commissioners approved the trips to Austin the spending of funds for the trips is lawful.

Fulgenzi, when contacted early Wednesday, said he felt the expenditures were justified "to keep up with what's going on."

He said he feels county officials should make such trips because "if we don't participate, some day we're going to wake up

Schools Still Waiting For Phantom Dress Code Case

Canyon school officials are still waiting for word on whether they will have to change their dress code for students and now they're beginning to doubt the veracity of news reports that an April Texas Supreme Court ruling will impact here.

In fact, after extensive research, the school district's attorney says he believes the case which received wide coverage in state media was never presented the Supreme Court for ruling.

School administrators are taking a cautious attitude about the future of the local dress code any way.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said he's talked with representatives of various school-related associations in Austin and "nobody knows anything about it."

"It will have some affect, but apparently nobody seems to know what happened," he said. "As far as I know we'll stay intact until we get school over with and then hopefully we'll have some legal guidance if there is such a court case."

Attorney Elton Cox said Tuesday he doubts now that the media story concerning the court ruling was accurate.

Cox said checks with Austin sources, including the Texas Bar Association, reveal that no case concerning the dress codes of schools has been heard by the Supreme Court.

He said that does not mean such a case was not heard in a federal district court or a state district court.

He said checks with other school district attorneys revealed they have neither seen nor heard anything of the case other than what was reported in Amarillo media.

"I'm confident there's been nothing final on it," Cox said.

County Tax Formula Said Complicated But Lawful

Randall County's method of figuring how much tax property owners must pay each year may be complicated, but it is certainly legal, according to the county's tax attorney, Jim Blair.

Blair, an assistant district attorney who works exclusively on tax problems for the county, said as long as the county tax rolls reflect fair market value on property the system is legal.

In fact, he said, the county tax figuring system is presumed under the law to be legal until proven otherwise in a court of law.

An Amarillo television news report said Tuesday night the county tax structure might be unconstitutional.

"I don't see anything wrong with it," Blair said. "They're coming up with the fair market value and that's what the law says."

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen also defended the intentions of the county commissioners, who establish the tax in structure and the formula for implementing the taxes here.

"What they have attempted to do is arrive at some formula that would accurately reflect the fair market value of homes in the city, the subdivisions and the rural areas," he said. "They have made a bonafide effort to arrive at an equal taxation posture concerning rural house and city house based on that formula.

"If their figures do reflect the fair market value of homes then they would be legal."

There is some evidence the county's tax structure does not reflect fair market value.

At the last summer meeting of the board of equalization, no property owners appeared to complain about taxes, a unique situation for any taxing entity.

And, county commissioners have expressed concern and the desire to do something about the equalizing of taxes between rural and city property.

Five years ago, commissioners appointed a study committee to come up with recommendations concerning the equalizing of taxes between city and rural property.

The committee issued a report in January 1969 which suggested rural evaluations remain as assessed but that city evaluations be reduced by 15 per cent and that the taxable evaluation be raised to 17 per cent on all property.

In April 1969, commissioners voted to accept the committee recommendations.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, explained this week the current formula used to figure fair market value and the taxes for city, subdivision and rural property.

She said her office depreciates all property by 5 per cent when the property is initially put on the tax rolls. The depreciation does not apply to land.

On city property, she said taxes are figured this way:

A house might have a fair market value with the 5 per cent depreciation of $28,636. The land on which the house sits might have a value of $2400. Those two figures are added together and then reduced by 15 per cent to come up with a figure of $26,380.

Then, the 17 per cent tax rate is applied to that figure to come up with taxable value.

For a home in a subdivision, the formula works this way:

American flags appeared on porches and house fronts Monday in remembrance of those who gave their lives for their country during war. Canyon residents observed Memorial Day by attending a special service at Dreamland Cemetery Monday morning. Most businesses and governmental offices were closed in observance of the holiday.

Most Delegates Understand Plea Of County Judges, Sherman Says

State Sen. Max Sherman said Tuesday that in spite of publicized reaction of Constitutional Convention leaders, most delegates in Austin probably do not resent recent efforts by county judges to defeat a judiciary article for the new constitution.

Sherman said those delegates who understand the problems pointed out by the county judges would not resent a strong lobbying effort to bring about the defeat of the article twice last week.

But, he said county judges from throughout the state who converged on the convention last week and early this week "expressed their views very strongly."

Sherman said the county judges themselves — among them County Judge Woody Pond of Canyon — did not wholly bring about the demise of the judiciary article devised and proposed by a convention committee.

The death of the bill, he said, was also due to a coalition of three groups who together had enough strength in the convention to kill the article.

The article was voted down last week after intense lobbying by county judges. It would have provided for the replacement of county judges who are not attornies with circuit court judges who are attornies.

A revised article was expected to come up for another vote Wednesday.

Sherman said county judges, who opposed the article because of its establishment of circuit courts, joined with defense attornies who protested an article section allowing the state to appeal verdicts and with other delegates who simply opposed a unified judiciary system.

Judge Pond has spent several days in recent weeks in Austin joining other county officials to protest the passage of the judiciary article as it was presented by committee. He also testified against the article during committee hearings earlier this year.

Pond returned from another day in Austin Tuesday. He'd gone to the capitol expecting a substitute judiciary article to be presented during afternoon sessions.

But, rather than pursue the judiciary article, delegates worked on the general provisions article.

They were expected to resume floor debate on a substitute judiciary article Wednesday.

Pond did not return to Austin Wednesday and seemed unworried about the substitute bill late Tuesday.

He said the anticipated proposal would give the legislature the discretion as to whether circuit courts should be established.

Another key feature opposed by Pond in the article would have sent all fine and fee money collected by circuit courts to state coffers rather than county coffers.

He said the anticipated article will give the legislature the power to say where the money will be deposited.

Commencement Set Friday For 200 Canyon Graduates

Commencement exercises for the 1974 graduating class at Canyon High School are set for Friday night, May 31 at 8 p.m. at the Buffalo Fieldhouse on the WTSU campus.

Sheila Thomason will present the valedictory address and Mary Townsend will give the salutatory address on this night.

John Sommer, principal of Canyon High School, will present the graduating class. Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of Canyon schools, accompanied by Tom Keeling, president of the school board, and Harold Erwin, shool board member, will award the diplomas.

A cornet trio will play "Bugler's Holiday" by Anderson. Members of the trio include John King, Patricia Maxwell, and Marc Guy. They will be accompanied by a wind ensemble directed by Richard Bales.

Mrs. J. W. King will provide music for the processional and the recessional. The Rev. Bill M. Kent, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon will word the invocation and the benediction.

Sponsors for this year's graduating class are Mrs. LaNell Hagemeier, Mrs. Jane Westberry and Allen Jenkins.

Canyon city commissioners and other city officials will throw open the doors of city hall and three other buildings now housing city functions this week end, just days before local voters go to the polls to express their view on whether the city should build a new city hall.

A special city election is set from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday. Balloting will be at the Canyon community center. Absentee balloting, which so far has tallied about two dozen votes, will continue through 5 p.m. Friday at city hall.

Open house activities Friday night and all day Saturday will climax a low-key campaign by city commissioners to spread the word for the construction of a $1.3 million city hall which would include police services, fire services, city administration and a library under one roof.

Commissioners have appeared before civic clubs in recent weeks speaking for construction of the building.

City Manager George Loudder said the purpose of the Friday night and Saturday open house will be to show citizens of Canyon the facilities the city is now

Women's Involvement In Community Main Goal Of Past District Prexy

By LORENA MILLER

"Getting women to work within their own communities and to grow within themselves to become better and more involved citizens," is the goal considered by Mrs. Don Max Vars of Canyon to be the most important aspect of club involvement.

Mrs. Vars has only recently retired from a two-year term as the district president for the Top of Texas District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Although not involved as district president now, Mrs. Vars will continue her clubwork and offices in many ways. She is affiliated with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs as the state junior treasurer for the next two years, will serve the University Study Club of Canyon in the vice president's post, will be serving as the public affairs department chairman for Canyon Study Club here, and at the district level will be serving the Top of Texas District as parliamentarian for the coming two years.

In addition, Mrs. Vars (the former Lila Gay Buske of Friona) will serve as president of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Auxiliary which is sponsored by Canyon's University Study Club since it was founded under the presidency of Mrs. Barbara Wirt during April 1973.

The vibrant clubwoman who has been an added sparkle in the realms of clubwork in Canyon is currently serving on her final year with the board of the Canyon City Library. She related that "we have been working toward a new library for so long and the money that the board presently has in the building fund will be used to furnish the new library if the building is approved by the voters."

Another project on which she is continuing her service is the Canyon division of the Opportunity Plan, Inc. at West Texas State University. She serves the OPI as an executive committee member.

Raised at Friona, Lila Gay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Buske. Her father is a cattleman and after she graduated from high school in Friona she packed her bags to attend Texas Technological in Lubbock and earned the BS degree in elementary education there. She also met her husband, Don Max Vars from Tulia, while attending Texas Tech and the couple married in 1962. She taught for one year in Lubbock.

Don Max was also a Tech student and served as a bank examiner while the couple was in Lubbock. Their eldest, Mayla, age 10 and a fifth grade student now, was born shortly before the couple was transferred to Amarillo in January 1965. He served as head bank examiner with the Amarillo bank for about 6 months before the Vars moved to Canyon to establish their home in June 1965.

The Vars youngest daughter, Misty, was born in March 1966 after they had moved to Canyon. She is now a second grade student.

Her husband joined the staff of the First National Bank of Canyon in 1965 and progressed through several positions with the bank which he currently serves as president. He is also a member of the Lions Club here and the Vars are active members of the First Baptist Church where both are involved as directors of the college Sunday School department.

Shortly before her daughter's birth in 1966, Mrs. Vars became a new member of the Canyon Study Club. For the first few months she "sat and observed" later becoming involved with the club as pressbook chairman and as reporter-historian. She advanced to the Canyon Study Club presidency in 1968 and her main concern "was the waiting list for new membership" so she set about to work with young women of the community and initiated the beginnings of the Heritage Woman's Club here in her early term of CSC presidency.

"We (the Canyon Study Club) didn't have any real definite projects at that time — but with the help and organizational efforts of Mrs. Durwood (Kay) Henderson we set out to have the Miss Canyon Contest which has evolved into an annual project now," recalled Mrs. Vars.

As CSC president, Mrs. Vars continued the project of the Halloween Carnival "which is really a community effort to keep our kids off the streets on Halloween night — and still give them a place to have fun."

Following her tenure in CSC leadership, Mrs. Vars was advanced to junior club director for the Top of Texas District and in that position was supervisor for 8 junior clubs, 3 junior-ette clubs for high schools and was instrumental in the organization of two new junior clubs at Perryton and Dalhart. She visited with each of the clubs under her leadership during the two-year term as junior club director.

For the past two years she has held the top position as president of the Top of Texas District and during that two years spent many hours on the road and preparing speeches for the 74 clubs of the district which she visited.

"When I went into the presidency of district my main emphasis was on membership and growth," she said. "I wanted our women to learn how to work with and for their communities." She urged participation in the community improvement awards sponsored jointly by the Sears, Roebuck Company and General Federation of Women's Clubs where cash awards are given to local clubs for their community improvement projects. Thirty-seven clubs entered the competition from the district and reported on their community improvement projects under her presidency.

"Our district meeting attendance was improved also," she recalled. She was in charge of the Junior Club Newsletter and attended all of the state conventions.

Her move to District President came as "quite a jump." It was a big step from the low rung of the ladder to the top, she said.

"One reason for my acceptance of the district office that soon (without pre-training in other district positions) was the chance I saw to bring the enthusiasm of our youth in the junior club level to greater heights," she said.

As district president, Mrs. Vars was instrumental in gaining more funding for the Lola B. Mundy Scholarship Loan Fund which is administered by the Opportunity Plan, Inc. Although already established as a district project her efforts paid off by having more money contributed to the fund than in the past.

She involved local junior club women in district positions by naming Mrs. Virginia Cotton of Heritage Woman's Club and Mrs. Charles (Treasure) Brasher of Canyon Study Club to junior club office positions at the district level and also named Mrs. Jim Brown of Canyon Study Club as a district board member.

"I also saw the need for our senior clubs," she said. "It is really something great to realize that many of our senior clubs have been active for 50 or more years and their projects which may not reflect as much public attention are still equally important. These senior clubwomen participate in many of the same scholarship projects with funding and their programs are equally as important because they continue to grow and become better and more involved citizens along the way."

Mrs. Vars has recently completed her tenure as Top of Texas District President and concluded her year with attendance at the state TFWC convention in San Antonio where she was accompanied by Mrs. Larry Brandon of Canyon, new district junior director, and Mrs. David Britt of Wheeler, who will assume the role as district president for the coming two years.

Family Celebration Honors E. E. Planks

A family celebration commemorating Mr. E.E. Plank's 95th birthday was held Sunday, May 19, as prearranged by the children of the Planks.

The occasion also noted the Plank's 67th wedding anniversary and her 86th birthday which was in March along with their Mother-Father Day events.

Although no invitations were sent, many friends and relatives of the couple from local and area towns visited during the afternoon affair. The celebration and visitation was at the Plank's home on Highway 60 which they built since moving to the area 25 years ago.

Dip Entertaining Easy With Blender

Entertaining can be easy with dips and snacks prepared using the blender, a common household appliance in many local homes, according to Becky Hall, Randall County Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. Hall presented a bevy of hints and tricks using the modern blender at recent county-wide meetings of home demonstration clubs. Several recipes for the blender were also shared with those homemakers and are being shared through the facilities of the Canyon News and Canyon Sunday News in segmented portions from Mrs. Hall's program.

Dips and spreads using the blender method are shared with readers this week. Succeeding issues will include other blender recipes from Mrs. Hall:

Roquefort Cheese Dip

3 teaspoons cream or evaporated milk

1 cup cream style cottage cheese

1 thin slice onion

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

3 ounces Roquefort cheese, crumbled

Put the ingredients into the blender container in the order given. Blend until smooth. Serve with small crackers.

Shrimp Paste

2 tablespoons catsup

2 tablespoons mayonnaise

2 tablespoons evaporated milk or thin cream

1 tablespoon lemon juice

Dash of cayenne

½ small onion

1 5-ounce can shrimp, drained

Place all ingredients, in order listed, in blender container. Cover container and blend on high speed. Stop and start blender several times and scrape down sides of the container. Blend about 1 minute or until smooth. Chill before serving.

Crabby Dip

1 can tomato soup

1 cup cubed American cheese

⅛ teaspoon onion salt

1 can shredded crab meat

½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Put the soup, cheese, onion salt and Worcestershire sauce into the blender container. Cover and blend until smooth. Add the crab meat and blend until well mixed.

Ham Spread

2 tablespoons cream

1/3 cup mayonnaise

1 thin slice onion

1/3 cup pickle relish

1 cup cooked ham, cubed

Put the cream, mayonnaise, onion and relish into the blender container. Cover and blend until well mixed. Add the ham a few cubes at a time and blend until ham is finely chopped. Serve on rye toast.

Ham Dip

Into container put

¾ cup diced ham

½ small onion, halved

½ cup mayonnaise

1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

⅛ teaspoon cloves

⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Cover and blend on high speed for 60 seconds. Makes 1 cup.

Chicken Dip

Use chicken in place of ham. Fold in ¼ cup chopped green olives.

Michelle Gagnon Born In Canyon

Michelle Lee Gagnon is a new addition for the James L. Gagnon home in Farwell since the May 22 birth at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

The infant weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces and measured 20½ inches at birth.

An older brother, Richard, age 3, awaited the arrival along with the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tex Pierce of Amarillo and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralphe Gagnon of El Paso.

The infant's father is a wire chief with the Atcheson Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad.

Eugene Youngs Have Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. Young of Canyon announce the May 24 birth of a daughter, Rachel Marie, who was born at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

The young miss weighed 8 pounds, 5 ounces and has an older sister, Jenny, 3.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. Audrian Young of Borger and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Love of Phillips.

The infant's father is a graduate assistant with the English department at West Texas State University.

Homemaking Dept. Offers Sewing For Adults At CHS

The Canyon High School homemaking department will offer a course on beginning sewing for adults. Classes will be held at the high school in the department rooms. The only cost to students will be the cost of patterns and material used in the class.

The course will be offered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon each day. The course will run for three weeks in June.

For more information contact the homemaking teachers at CHS prior to May 28. Cathy Cameron, Brenda Bratton and Janet Fincher are the homemaking teachers at CHS.

CHS Grads Given $500 By WTSU

Five 1974 graduates of Canyon High School have been awarded $500 Residence Hall Scholarships for the 1974-1975 school term at West Texas State University.

They are Teresa Ann Dilworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Dilworth, 4219 Gary of Amarillo; Carla Jo Dwyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Dwyer, 1003 Fifth St.; Daniel Eugene McGlasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGlasson, 2510 Tenth Ave.; Alisha Ann Nelson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vaughn Nelson, 1407 Creekmere; and Sheila Gay Thomason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Thomason.

The awards consist of funds derived from rentals and services available in WTSU residence halls.

"The Residence Hall Scholarships were established in order to attract outstanding students to West Texas State University. They are substantial scholarships, and will be of great benefit, not only to the recipient, but to WTSU. This scholarship program is another element in our continuing quest for excellence," said Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, WTSU president.

About 450 applications were submitted for the R H Scholarships, and from these 50 $500 awards were made, according to Jack Edmondson, Scholarship Committee chairman.

Selection criteria were academic qualifications, demonstrated student and community leadership and extracurricular activities and honors.

Miss Dilworth is a member of National Honor Society, Future Business Leaders of America and Future Homemakers of America. She also participates in Explorer Scouts and youth activities of South Lawn Baptist Church.

Miss Dwyer has served in FBLA, Drama Club, Rainbows, Explorer Scouts, Student Council and basketball. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

A National Merit Finalist, McGlasson is a member of National Honor Society, All-Region band, Student Council and Boy Scouts. He has participated in football, drama club and Thespians.

Miss Nelson, vice president of the National Honor Society, captained the basketball team. She was listed on the All-State Tournament team and second team Panhandle Super Team. She has participated in track, and was Basketball Queen in 1973.

A member of the basketball and track teams, Miss Thomason served as president of the Junior Engineering Technical Society and as a member of the National Honor Society and Office Education Association.

First Christian Church Sets June 2 Luncheon

First Christian Church of Canyon will have a special luncheon following regular worship services Sunday, June 2, in fellowship hall of the church.

The luncheon will be a heritage event with members making committments to the future of the church. Honored will be those church members who have served in leadership positions through the years.

Plans for the new church sanctuary will also be presented at the luncheon, according to Rev. Terry L. White, pastor.

using to house fire, police and city services and the library.

He and commissioners have said they feel the current structures speak for themselves in their effort to replace the buildings with one complex to be located at 16th and 3rd Avenue.

The open house periods will allow citizens to view the buildings along with city official escorts.

The Friday night open house will be from 6 to 10 p.m. with focal point of the activities at the community center. Loudder said persons wishing to tour the facilities should go first to the community center where they can meet individually and talk with city commissioners, Mayor Manly Bryan or other city department heads.

Refreshments will be available at the community center for visitors.

From the community center, the commissioners hope citizens will travel to the fire department and then the police department, city hall and library to look over the current facilities.

The same type format will be used for the Saturday open house, scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Commissioners and other officials will again be at the community center to answer questions or meet individually with citizens.

No formal presentations are scheduled for either open house.

Citizens attending the open house sessions will have an opportunity to view the fire department, which commissioners have labelled a fire trap, the police department, which is located in an old lumber yard office, the city hall, located in an early-century vintage bank building and the library, located in a World War II barracks.

Balloting scheduled Tuesday will not be for or against an issuance of bonds or any other form of indebtedness for the city.

The ballot, rather, will carry the following statement with citizens-voters to mark their preference for or against.

RESOLVED: That the City Commission be, and is hereby, authorized to proceed with the construction of municipal facilities through competitive bidding.

The election was called after a group of local residents petitioned the city commission to call the vote for or against construction of the new city hall.

For more than a year, city commissioners have worked with a Dallas architectural firm planning the new facility.

Construction is expected to total $1,338,288.

The city expects to pay for the construction with the following:

$520,000 from the unencumbered reserves in the water and sewer fund

$140,000 from unencumbered reserves in the general fund

$483,000 from federal revenue sharing funds

$195,288 from issuance of certificates of obligation for short-term financing

Tax. . .

A home might have a 100 per cent value of $24,566. With the 5 per cent depreciation, the home would be on the rolls at $23,337. Then the tax office reduces that by 25 per cent to come up with $17,503, the land value of $900 is added and then the total is reduced by another 15 per cent to come up with $15,643.

For a home on farm land, the formula works this way:

A home might have a value of $30,000, but goes on the roll at 50 per cent of that value or $15,000. Then 15 per cent is taken from that figure.

Mrs. Bruse explained that county commissioners have for years put rural homes on the rolls at 50 per cent believing that homes in country areas will not have the same market value as the same type homes inside the city.

Dowlen confirmed that the concept is probably valid in that the marketability of a home by itself standing in the middle of a section of farm land is questionable while the same house if located in a city area would be marketable at a much higher price.

He said the county formulas have been attempts at placing the fair market value on property.

Farmers Hope More Rain To Come

In spite of some hail damage to a beleaguered wheat crop Randall County farmers are hoping last weekend's rains are just the first of many to come for the early summer.

Most of the county received between one and two inches of moisture from several storm systems which traversed the county over the weekend.

And, for cow-calf operators the change in the previous drought conditions was a favorable sign.

Cow-calf operations had been endangered by the lack of growth on range and pastureland in recent weeks and were forced to continue feeding their herds on purchased feed.

The rains should green up pastures and spur new growth, growth, though, which won't last long unless more rains are forthcoming.

County Agent John Brazzil said the rains should spur a considerable amount of ground preparation for summer crop planting. But, again, unless more rains come the summer planting of dryland grain sorghum will get off to a bleak start.

Brazzil said some farmers may go ahead and seed their summer crops gambling on more rain.

Dryland sorghum farmers have about three more weeks of good planting weather.

Some irrigated sorghum farmland has already been planted, he said, and the rains aided in that area.

Brazzil said it has been difficult to determine the extent of damage caused the groaning wheat crop due to hail. He said it is likely many farmers lost some crop to the hails.

Several reported damaging hail in the southern portions of the county and through a strip east of Canyon.

As far as benefits for dryland wheat, which has been plagued first by greenbugs and then by drought, Brazzil said they are negligible.

"It didn't make any difference in the potential yield," he said.

Brazzil said the one- to two-inch rains over the weekend will not make a heavy dent in the drought which has been hovering over the Panhandle since last August.

"But, it's a start and we hope it's a change that will follow through for us," he said. He noted that late May and early June are prime moisture times for the county.

spine and caused him to be unable to continue operation of a business in Amarillo.

The suit says that the plaintiff has paid or will pay in the future medical expenses totalling $5000, for which he seeks reimbursement.

He also seeks $25,000 because of his inability to work and operate his business. A total of $20,000 is sought for "pain and mental anguish" now and in the future. And, he seeks $283 for repair of the automobile.

The county became open to civil suits of this nature about four years ago when the Texas legislature passed the Texas Tors Claims Act, which removed immunity from civil action from governmental entities.

Up to that time, counties and cities had been immune to civil suits.

Dress. . .

"As far as I know it did not go to the Supreme Court and has no affect here."

Jacobs said the school district will await word from the Texas Education Agency before making any real changes in the local dress code. The dress code for the 1974-75 school year will be reviewed during the summer months prior to the opening of the fall term.

Amarillo media reported in late April that the Supreme Court handed down a ruling in a case downstate which could alter or otherwise affect the dress code throughout Texas schools.

The Amarillo media reported the following in a story:

"In a landmark decision that could force many Texas school districts to alter or possibly eliminate their dress and grooming codes, the Texas Supreme Court has said a person's grooming habits must disrupt or distract students before they can be enforced. The decision means districts may not be able to enforce dress and grooming codes on the basis the relaxation of such codes would cause distractions and lack of discipline."

The Canyon code has been in the local news several times in recent years as board members attempt to regulate hair and dress length.

and somebody from the wild blue yonder will have passed a law we never heard of."

County officials such as the county clerk and county tax collector seek commissioner approval before taking trips for conferences or conventions and are allowed the 12 cents per mile and $30 per diem payments, if approved.

Pool's Splash Day Set Saturday

Canyon City Swimming Pool will open with a "splash day" Saturday despite the work of vandals over the week end who destroyed a loudspeaker and soft drink dispenser there.

The pool's opening day will begin at 1:30 p.m. and conclude at 7 p.m. that evening and will continue at those hours throughout the summer during Monday-Saturday. Swimming hours on Sunday will be from 2-6 p.m. in the afternoon.

Poolside phone number when necessary will be 655-9712.

Admission will be 35 cents for students per day or 50 cents for adult single day rates. Season passes may be obtained from the pool manager, Robbie Berry, at $12.50 per student or $40 for a family season pass.

The pool will be available for rent to groups at $5 per hour after regular closing of the pool. Advance arrangements for renting the pool may be made with the manager and all renting groups must furnish their own qualified lifeguard for their parties.

Working as lifeguards with the pool this summer will be Jerre Tucker, Jo Beth Price, Linda Dudenhoeffer and the manager.

Women's Chamber Serves Ice Cream To New Members

The women's division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce will hold an ice cream social family style Tuesday evening, June 4, at 8:00 p.m. at Conner Park in Canyon.

The event will be the conclusion for a current membership drive for the group. All local women are invited to join the group which meets six times per year with their main objectives being the participating in the growth and activities of Canyon.

Membership dues are $12 per year and all women may join the group whether their husbands are members of the Canyon Chamber or not, according to Evelyn Trice, president of the group.

Women desiring membership in the women's division are urged to attend the social Tuesday evening with their families.

Pre-Enrollment For Kindergarten Program Near 100

Bob Parks, principal at Rex Reeves Elementary School, said that pre-enrollment in the 1974-75 kindergarten program at Rex Reeves is nearing the 100 mark. Next fall will begin the second year for the program.

Presently two teachers are teaching four sections each day. There is presently an average of 25 per section for the past year. The state allows a maximum of 30 students to the teacher in kindergarten.

Parks said that next fall will probably surpass the previous year in enrollment in the program.

Rains Benefit Community

By REBA RAEF

WE HAD A nice rain last Friday evening, 1.76 inches. We also had some hail, but don't think we'll have to replant our garden. A few more days should tell.

* * *

LAST SUNDAY WAS the last Sunday for C.C.D. classes until September. The sophomore and freshman classes completed many projects during the 73-74 school year, including a poster about Creation, poetry on a paragraph entitled "Man Is," one poem was published in "The Muse," a National Honor Society publication; a mobile about themselves with one side telling ways they would like to change; Halloween (Holy Eve) Liturgy, followed by a Halloween party; Valentine Liturgy to be used at Mass; Valentine tray favors for patients at Neblett Memorial Hospital and LaCasa Nursing Home in Canyon; a banner for Lent, inviting the parish to journey to Jerusalem to find Springtime in New Life; banners to be used as part of the Holy Week Liturgy including one for Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday and Good Friday; a large paper mache map of Jerusalem, showing places of importance during the Passion of Jesus.

One of the class members pointed out these places as the Passion was read at Mass; an examination of conscience for teens and art projects for the Easter Art Show.

Topics studied during the year included Creation, Baptism, Penance, Confirmation, Eucharist and the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Besides these activities, seven of the class members participate in the parish choir, one plays clarinet, two play guitars and four are singers.

Members of the class are Sharon and Shirley Lindemann, Patricia and Sandra Artho, Janie Batenhorst, Roger Batenhorst, Angeline Haschke, Brian Friemel, Dwayne Hartman, Vicki Gerber, Chris Wieck, Floyd Koch, Sharon Ramaekers, Janet Wilhelm, Ralph Gonzales, Donna Batenhorst, Steve Friemel and Linda Hartman.

All of these activities were not complete in the Sunday class, so much was done after school and on Saturday. Our congratulations to these young people for their contributions to their parish.

* * *

A MASS FORMALLY closing the 73-74 school year will take place at 10:00 a.m. Sunday June 9, in St. Mary's parish hall. An open house will be held. Parents are invited to visit the C.C.D. classrooms. A covered dish luncheon will follow at 12:00 in the parish hall. Each family is asked to bring enough food for themselves and the coffee and tea will be furnished.

The Corpus Christi procession will be held between Masses on June 16. Those girls and boys who want to scatter flowers in the procession will need a basket filled with flower petals. Girls may wear long dresses and boys may dress suitable for school.

Senior Citizens Set Sat. Meet

Canyon senior citizens will meet at 7 p.m. Saturday at the community center for refreshments and games and other activities.

No meeting is scheduled for tonight.

More than 120 persons attended a covered dish dinner last Thursday night sponsored by the senior citizens.

Those who plan to attend Saturday night should bring cookies, cards, dominoes and other such games. Donations of cards, tables or other types of game gear will be accepted.

All Canyon senior citizens are invited to attend the meeting and game session.

OEA Awards Presented At Program

Joelyn Crowley received the outstanding Vocational Office Education student award presented by the Office Education Association at the National Honor Society Awards night program held at Canyon High School.

According to Mrs. Georgia Lee, instructor in the course, because of the extreme closeness of grade points in the selection of the outstanding VOE student, a certificate of merit was awarded to Sheila Thomason.

VOE students are members of a conjunctive club organization, OEA. An award is given each year to the person who has done the most for the betterment of the OEA organization. According to Mrs. Lee this is a person who had dedicated the most time and effort in club activities, who has attended all the meetings and who participated in the Youth Leadership Conferences and contests. Rayleen Hillier was selected by fellow club members for this award.

An award for outstanding performance in shorthand was awarded Jana Burton. She was a first place winner in the Area shorthand competition and was a winner at state in April of this year.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Michelle Theis, bride-elect of Phil Swatzell, Jr. of Canyon was held Saturday, May 11, between the hours of 3:00 and 4:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dudley Moore, Jr. at 11 Southridge Drive here.

The refreshment table was decorated with streamers and a floral arrangement carrying out the bride-elect's chosen colors of red, white and blue. Serving at the table were Mrs. Jim Childers and Mrs. Aubrey Crossland with Mrs. Jack Swatzell at the guest book.

Receiving guests with Mrs. Moore and the honoree were the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Henry Theis of Dallas, and the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Phil D. Swatzell of Canyon.

Co-hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Aubrey Crossland, Charles Gerald, Douglas Jones, Tom Lair, Johnnie McBroom, Donald Olsen, Kenneth Olsen, Charles Peckenpaugh, Charles Smallwood, Bill Sternenberg, W.J. Wooten, Jr. and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Theresa Bellinghausen, 1808 Second Ave., Canyon, was honored at a social for cafeteria workers held at the Canyon High School cafeteria Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Bellinghausen has been employed with the Canyon Independent School District for seven years. She began her employment with the school on Dec. 1, 1967. Her specialty is making pastries. Prior to her employment with the Canyon schools, she worked at WTSU for 10 years. Mrs. Dorethea Green presented a corsage to Mrs. Bellinghausen.

New Chairman For IE Dept.

Dr. Donald D. Envick has been named to replace Dr. Wallace Johnston as head of the Industrial Education Department at West Texas State University.

Envick, 35, who received his doctorate of education from Texas A&M in 1968, is a 1961 graduate of Kearney State College in Nebraska. The new I.E. head, who has been at WT for six years, will assume his duties in September. The professor of industrial education has taught at the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology.

"I hope to bring in more students, make the programs work that we have going, and get more industries involved," Envick commented.

Business and industry already play an ever-growing role in the planning and promotion of the department since the inception of the seven-member Advisory Council in 1973. Its national and local business executives membership meets with many WT instructors and administrators to help make course offerings more relevant to professional needs.

The West Texas State University Industrial Education Department is one of the newest and fastest-growing on the campus. The department has almost doubled its student enrollment, growing to between 150-175 majors this year, while increasing the degree offerings from two to four. It consists of three divisions.

Johnston, head of the I.E. Department for seven years, will "devote more time to teaching," as well as serve his second year as the Texas Industrial Arts Assn. Journal editor.

Anniversary Reception For Kuhlman's

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman, east of the city, will be honored with a 25th wedding anniversary reception and open house at their home Sunday, June 2, from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m.

Friends and relatives of the couple have been invited for the occasion which will be in commemoration of their 25th anniversary although the actual marriage date is June 5.

The Kuhlman's children will honor their parents at the event. Their children include Michael, Cindi Lou and Gary. Also honoring Jeannie and Herbert Kuhlman for the occasion will be Michael's wife, Donna, and their young daughter, Nicci.

Patrol Reports April Accident Count

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on rural highways in Randall County during the month of April, 1974, according to Sergeant Clint Culp, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in 1 person killed and 8 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first four months of 1974 shows a total of 41 accidents resulting in 3 persons killed and 40 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for April, 1974, shows a total of 390 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 218 persons injured as compared to April, 1973, with 544 accidents resulting in 24 persons killed and 283 persons injured. This waxs 154 less accidents, five less killed, and 65 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

The 19 traffic deaths for the month of April, 1974, occurred in the following counties: three in Palo Pinto; two each in Moore, Terry, Wilbarger, and Lynn; and one each in Gray, Hutchinson, Randall, Swisher, Jack, Lynn, Stonewall, and Wise counties.

Mrs. Cartwright To Head Scouting

Mrs. Don Cartwright has been officially placed in the position of District IV Chairman for the Canyon area Girl Scouting program following an official board meeting on May 21.

Mrs. Cartwright lives at 204 Rosemary, Amarillo, and will coordinate the local activities for ten scout troops ranging from the Brownie to Senior levels.

She said that the scouting program this past year included about 170 girls in projects and troop activities. A majority of the troops conduct their meetings at the Girl Scout House in Canyon with the exception of the Senior level which meets in a private home.

Recruiting scouts, leaders and making the community aware of scouting is the responsibility of the new chairman. In addition she will coordinate various activities of scouting, handle national registration and be in charge of the care for the Scout Building.

Holiday Spent At Carlsbad Cave

Spending the Memorial Day holiday week end in Carlsbad, New Mexico were Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Miller and Kevin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller and Carolyn.

The group travelled to Carlsbad Saturday and were housed at Motel 6 on the western edge of that city. The motel had only been open to the public for about 6 weeks and is located next to the Carlsbad Civic Center on the highway to the caverns.

The group saw sights around Carlsbad Saturday evening and went to the caverns for the "bat flights" that evening to find that the "bats weren't back from their winter hibernation in caves of Old Mexico and were not expected to return to the Carlsbad Caverns until late June or until more moisture was received there to bring out their insects for bat consumption."

On Sunday, the group took an early tour through the caverns which is a national facility with a fee of only $3 per carload. The cavern tour was formerly led by guides in group departures but now guides are located throughout the caverns to offer information on the fantastic sites when asked and tourists may make the cavern walk through at their own pace stopping to see and view the many stalagtites and stalagmites at their own leisure. Boxed lunches are offered in a restaurant facility 750 feet below ground. After a walk down through the caverns, tour of the big room and lunch underground, the Miller group returned to the main center by elevator and went to the observatory there.

Another jaunt while at Carlsbad Caverns can include the recently opened New Cave which is a tourist spelunker's paradise, according to park information. The New Cave tour is included in the admission fee at the main caverns but is located elsewhere in the park and is a strenuous tour with limited tour groups being guided through requiring 24 hour advance reservations with the park service. New Cave is not improved like the main caverns and those taking the tours must take a strong flashlight, lanterns, etc. to see the cave there. It will not be improved in the foreseeable future and will rather be left as a "new cave" for adventurous folk.

While in the Carlsbad area you may also see the Botannical Gardens just outside Carlsbad on the Artesia Highway, view many items in the White's City Museum near the caverns, and even return by way of Hobbs, New Mexico to hear the "talking oil well."

Girl Scouts Camp In Palo Duro Area

Troop 181 of the junior level in Girl Scouting had a week end campout last week end and returned to Canyon on Sunday, May 26.

The group went to Palo Duro Canyon Friday afternoon to spend the week end hiking, working on various scout badges, serving their meals fresh from the campfire and sleeping in tents, according to Mrs. Don Sheffy, leader.

Blenders Easy Trick To Breakfast

Some new recipe selections using the blender in a modern household were shared by Becky Hall, Randall County Home Demonstration Agent, during recent meetings of various home demonstration clubs throughout the county.

In addition to sharing some tricks for the blender, Mrs. Hall shared recipes with those attending the meetings and is currently sharing these same "easy blender" recipes with our readers.

You may desire to include the following blender recipes with your breakfast or snack ideas:

Cranberry-Orange Muffins

Into mixing bowl sift 2 cups sifted flour and 3 teaspoons baking powder. Into container put

1 cup fresh or defrosted cranberries
1 cup milk
Thin yellow rind of 1 orange
1 egg
3 tablespoons soft butter or shortening
1/3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Cover and blend on high speed until cranberries are finely chopped. Pour over dry ingredients and stir just to moisten flour. Turn into greased muffin cups and bake in a preheated 400° F. oven for 25 minutes. Makes 1½ dozen medium muffins.

Plain Muffins

2 cups flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup milk
1 egg
1/3 cup shortening

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar into mixing bowl. Place remaining ingredients in blender container. Cover container and blend on high speed about 10 seconds. Add liquid to dry ingredients and stir lightly only until flour is moistened. Fill well-greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake at 400° F. for 20 to 25 minutes.

Pancakes

2 cups flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups milk
2 eggs
¼ cup soft shortening

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt into mixing bowl. Combine milk, eggs, and shortening in blender container. Cover container and blend on high speed about 10 seconds. Pour into flour mixture. Stir until batter is smooth. Bake about ¼ cup of batter for each pancake on a hot, lightly greased griddle.

Waffles

2 cups flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 2/3 cups milk
½ cup shortening
2 egg whites

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt into mixing bowl. Combine remaining ingredients except egg whites in blender container in order listed. Cover container and blend on high speed for 10 seconds. Pour into dry mixture and stir until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold into batter. Bake in hot waffle iron about 3 minutes, or until waffle stops steaming.

(Editor's Note: Succeeding issues of the Canyon Sunday News and Canyon News will include blender recipe selections from Mrs. Hall which you may desire to clip for quick party dips, easy salads, desserts and main dishes.)

"Tune-In" Week Set For Youths

Tune-In Week for youths of Canyon will be held June 3-8 with different activities scheduled each day. Each day's activities will conclude with a Bible Study session under the direction of Mrs. Ann Brown.

Events of "tune-in" begin Monday, June 3, at 6:30 p.m. with a pro-track meet at the West Texas State University field with hurdles, pole vaulting, relays, high jumps and other activities to be included.

Tuesday's "tune-in" session will begin at 6:30 p.m. with bowling at the Activities Center at West Texas State. Wednesday, June 5, at 7 p.m. will be an activity called "world's largest banana split" to be held at the Youth Activities Building of First Baptist Church.

"Tune-in" for Thursday will begin at 6:30 p.m. as the group travels by bus to Palo Duro Canyon for picnic and outdoor activities. On Friday, June 7, at 6:30 p.m. will be a bus trip to Thompson Park for golfing and homemade ice cream afterward.

Concluding the series Saturday, June 8, at 2:30 will be an afternoon bus ride ending with swimming and eats at the High Plains Baptist Assembly Grounds.

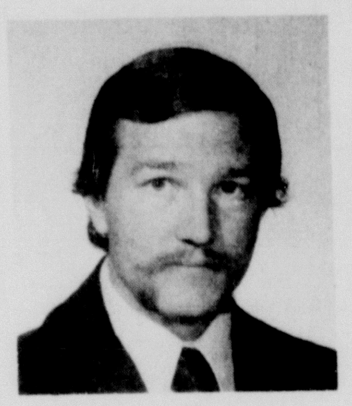
Medical Degree For T. Thompson

Tommy C. Thompson is among 190 candidates scheduled to receive the degree of doctor of medicine during the 84th annual commencement exercises of the University of Texas Medical Branch June 2 in Galveston Moody Civic Center auditorium.

Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.S. Thompson of Canyon and will take his internship at the Navy Regional Medical Center in Philadelphia, Penn., where he will be in orthopedic residency.

He graduated from Canyon High School in 1967 and earned the B.S. degree at West Texas State University in 1970. He also has the water safety instructor certificate from the American Red Cross.

Among extracurricular activities, Thompson has served during April and May 1973 at Balboa Naval Hospital in San Diego, Calif. and with the Department of Anatomy at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston during October and November 1973. During March 1974 he was with the Ben Taub Hospital Emergency Room in Houston.



Tommy C. Thompson

A member of Phi Beta Pi fraternity, Thompson is married to the former Linda Y. Prichard of Canyon. They were married April 19, 1967 and have four children, Thomas Courtney, 6; Carl Scott, 5; Heather York, 2; and Gretchen Donna, 1.

Diving Class Set At WT

Take the plunge in the new diving classes for all ages now being formed as the West Texas Diving Team. The first class meeting will be 10 a.m. Monday in the West Texas State University Activities Center.

For a monthly fee of $20, students will receive individualized instruction on a hourly basis each day, with a great chance for companionship, exercise and summer fun.

The diving coach is Peggy Hodges, who was a competitive diver for three years in Midland High School. During these years she won first place in her region and made both the all-region and all-state teams. Mrs. Hodges has coached Amateur Athletic Union diving each summer since her high school graduation.

Classes will be taught in the WTSU 50-meter pool in the Student Activities Center on the east side of campus and enrollment will be limited. For more information, contact Peggy Hodges, Rural Route 1, Box 379, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Absentee Voting Ends Friday

Absentee balloting ends Friday for the special city election scheduled June 4.

Bob Moore, city clerk, said 16 persons had cast absentee ballots for the election, which will decide the fate of construction of a $1.3 million city hall.

Absentee balloting is accomplished at the city hall.

Mrs. Martin To Post At TSTI Campus

Mrs. Karleene (Korkye) Martin of Canyon has been named as Director of Public Information and Instructor in the support program for the Mid-Continent Campus of Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo, according to TSTI general manager Lovell A. Pillow.

Also assuming new duties at TSTI on June 1 will be Bob Law of Amarillo. Law will serve as assistant manager of student services and Director of Counseling and Guidance.

Mrs. Martin was public relations director for the Opportunity Plan, Inc., in Canyon, for almost two years, functioning as editor of the Opportunity Plan Legend and other promotional material. She has been associated with area weekly and semi-weekly newspapers in various capacities for more than 20 years.

A graduate of Amarillo High School, she received a bachelor of arts degree in journalism from Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, and a master of arts degree in speech from West Texas State University. She is a member of the Speech Communication Association, the American Association of University Women, Palo Duro Toastmistress International, Toastmasters 211, the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, and numerous other civic groups. She has four children.

Law is a veteran of 19 years' experience in teaching and counseling, with a background also in farming and ranching operations and industrial construction. In the capacity of coordinator of guidance services for PESO Education Service Center, he coordinated state testing programs for Region 16 schools.

In addition, he conducted in-service training in workshops for teachers and counselors, and implemented career interest surveys and career education for this region.

Law holds a bachelor of science degree from Texas Tech and a master's degree in education from West Texas State University. He has also had training in instructional development and interpersonal communication.

Bridal Shower Fetes Couple

A bridal fete honoring Miss Linda Suzanne Holly, bride-elect of Dan Zevely of Canyon, was held last Friday evening between the hours of 7:30 and 9 p.m. at the home of the Manly Bryans.

Receiving guests at the event were Mrs. R.N. (Nick) Holly of Perryton, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Claud Zevely of Canyon, mother of the prospective bridegroom; along with two grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Nan Holly of Kilgore and Mrs. H.A. Brotherton of Canyon.

The refreshment table was decorated with a summer bouquet of yellow daisies and carried out the bride-elect's chosen color scheme of yellow and white. Miss Debbie Melton served at the table and presiding at the guest register was Mrs. Jay Bryan.

Shower hostesses included Mesdames Manly Bryan, Wesley Cox, Guy Bush, Harrold Melton, Robert Burton, Ray Malzahn, Jack Berry, John Sommer, Herb McGregor, Jerry Jacobs, J.D. Strickland, A.V. Read, De-Alyss Hooser, and Hollice Snyder.

WTSU Summer Registration Begins Monday

Registration for West Texas State University's first summer session will begin at 8 a.m. Monday in the Activities Center.

Class instruction starts Tuesday.

Beginning Freshman Orientation and Academic Advising is set for 9-11:30 a.m. Monday in the University Complex South, Room 101. Registration for the beginning freshmen will be from 3-4 p.m. at the AC.

All other enrolling students will follow an alphabetic time schedule based on the first letter of the student's last name.

Tuesday will be the last day for payment of fees without a penalty fee, but late registration will continue through Friday.

In addition to the variety of credit courses offered during the summer session, students may register for special music workshops scheduled during the first summer term.

Beginning Guitar Workshop for Teachers, Music 475-8, will meet June 10-14 from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Dr. Henry Eisendramer of St. Louis, Mo. will serve as clinician. The class is designed for the music and classroom teacher, and will include techniques of simplified guitar accompaniment.

Music Therapy Workshop, Music 475-9, will be taught by Martha M. Ester, assistant professor of music at WTSU, June 17-21 from 1:30-4:30 p.m.

The Music Therapy Workshop will acquaint students with career opportunities available in music therapy and the basic techniques utilized with music in a therapeutic setting.

West Texas Choral Conductors workshop, Music 475-4, will be held in conjunction with the West Texas Choral Music Camp, June 24-28. Dr. Eph Ehly, choral conductor at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, will serve as guest clinician.

The first summer session will continue through July 11. The second term begins July 15.

News Brief

R. T. (Dick) Furlow and wife, Eva, spent a week recently in Dallas with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ray, there. The Ray's (Ray and Mildred) returned to Canyon with the Furlows for a few days visiting here.

Play Presented By Fifth Graders

"Robin Hood and the Merry Little Old Woman" was presented by the Room 213, fifth grade class. Mrs. R. D. Wheelock is the teacher.

The play was presented on Monday afternoon, Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday afternoon. The class was divided into thirds so that there was a different cast each afternoon.

The purpose of the play was to put into practice things learned in reading during the year. The students studied the author's purpose, comprehension or the mood of what was happening, putting feeling and expression into the voice and actions and practice in memorizing. Students also learned about the stage and acting. They studied setting, properties, costumes, the intonation of the voice, and stage presence.

Another purpose of the play was to involve parents and others in school activities as much as practical by having guests for the plays.

Members of the cast in Monday's play were Deborah Head. Brian Drake, Daniel Colgan, Sherry Seals, Jana Cranmer, Anne Wheeler, Christi Parker, Evan Whitten, Tammy Tucek and Gary Chumbley.

Chumbley played the same character in all three of the plays.

Prompters, artists and announcers for each of the plays were the children not performing in the play that day.

Characters on Tuesday were played by Cynthia Poff, Tommy Simpson, Tammy Lowry, Jay Andrews, Cinday Gleaves, Sandy Gibson, Robert Foster, John McClure, and John D. Runyan.

Actors Wednesday included Reba Griffin, David Harbin, Kirk Moore, Mark Corbitt, Juanita Reynero, Anne Wheeler, Debbie Phelan, Steve Davis and Kevin Carroll.

Scout Council Names Grabber

Gene Grabber has been appointed to fill the vacant district chairman's position for the remainder of 1974 for the executive committee of the Randall County Boy Scouts.

The appointment for Grabber was made at a meeting Monday evening which included a general review of and planning session for scouting.

Other vacancies on the committee will be filled at the next council meeting to be held June 6. Jerry Helfenbein and Jess Adams of the Llano Estacado Council were present for the meeting offered their continuing aid to the scout work here.

Other committee members presently serving are Charles Peckenpaugh, scouting chairman; Frank Castleberry, explorer chairman; Dr. Kenneth Crossland, finance chairman; and Roy Lyles, manpower resources chairman.

Two Honored With Eagles

Two Canyon Junior High students received their Eagle Scout awards Monday night during court of honor ceremonies at the First Christian Church.

Bill Ritchie, 12, son of Maj. and Mrs. William Ritchie, and Jack Crager, 13, son of Mrs. Ada Crager, received scouting's highest honor.

The court of honor was for Troop 66.

Crager, a member of the Order of the Arrow, is in band and choir in school and has been a scout about 2½ years. His brother, Bruce, was also an Eagle Scout in the same troop. He is now at Texas Tech.

Ritchie is active in sports and recently placed first in the Atomic Energy Merit Badge seminar.

Others receiving honors Monday night were Ed Grimes, Star; Harley Baker and Greg Shehan, first class; Tom Carr, second class; Alan Grimes, tenderfoot. New scouts installed were Lane Williams, Nolan Dees, Pat Murray and Marvil Hill.

Canyon City Library Adds New Books Here

New selections available at the Canyon City Library include several new books added for the adult, juvenile and junior level readers.

Adult readers may select from the new books including "Cashelmara" by Susan Howatch; "The Hiding Place" by Corrie ten Boom; "Lincoln Steffens a Biography" by Justin Kaplan; "Two From Galilee" by Marjorie Holmes; and "Terror in Eagle Basin" by Cliff Farrell.

Donated for adult reader shelves recently have been "Reader's Digest Condensed Volume II, 1964;" "Orpheus A History of Religions" by Salomon Reinach; "Introduction to Geography, Third Edition" by Rhoads Murphey; and a "1972 Directory of Texas Manufacturers, Volumes I and II" which are available as reference materials at the library.

Added to the children's shelves are "Two Good Friends" by Judy Delton and "The Wind Blew" by Pat Hutchins. At the junior level new selections include: "What's The Matter With Wakefield?" by June Lewis Shore; "The Horse Comes First" by Mary Calhoun; and "Beat It, Burn It, Drown It" by Suzanne Hilton.

The library is open from 1:00 to 5:30 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. - 12 noon on Saturdays.

Candy Sale Set For Little League

The annual candy sale to raise money to support the Canyon Little League program begins Saturday and will run for two weeks.

Little Leaguers will go door-to-door in their campaign to sell the candy at $1.25 per box.

The top 15 salesmen will receive new baseball gloves following the sales campaign.

The campaign will end at 11 a.m. June 15. Headquarters for the sale will be the planned parenthood office in room 204 of the old courthouse.

Participants in the sales campaign may pick up their candy beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday by entering the courthouse at the south door. They may replenish their supplies by picking up more boxes at the planned parenthood office between 1 and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The candy sale is the primary fund-raising project for the Little League program here which this year has 400 participants in various teams.

Cottonwood Services Site

Cottonwood Grove in Palo Duro Canyon, just beyond the fifth water crossing, will be the setting Sunday, June 2, for the beginning service of a nondenominational series held each summer in the canyons to provide religious opportunity for park visitors and personnel there as well as for local residents desiring to participate.

The services which begin Sunday will run throughout June, July and August. Last year, the unique services drew visitors from almost every state in the union in addition to guests from several foreign countries.

A cowboy lay preacher, J. C. Newton, will be in charge of the services and arrange for other lay preachers from throughout the area to serve in the pulpit. Ken and Louise Baker, also of Canyon, will lead music which includes a small pump organ for accompaniment. Guests attending the services are also invited to provide their own musical instruments for accompaniment at the services.

Mrs. Betty Stoker's second grade class has had a special guest this school year. He is "Micky" a rat presented to the class by Rick Warren, a former student at WTSU. Micky has visited in students' homes during the week ends and will be spending the summer with Jenny Reeves, one of the students. Here, admiring Micky are, seated l. to r., Lisa Sands, Miss Reeves, David Grabber, standing l. to r., Darryl Rawlings and Troy Starke.

Religious Learning In VBS Atmosphere

Fun, good times and religious learning are a package treat for city youngsters who wish to participate in any of the Vacation Bible Schools being offered by the various churches of Canyon this summer.

Several of the church schools are being offered in June with others set later in the summer.

June 2-9 is scheduled dates for VBS activities at the First Baptist Church in Canyon.

The Central Church of Christ has set their VBS for June 3-7.

Combined efforts of several churches will result in the Ecumenical Vacation Church School to be held in June also. Participating churches in the Ecumenical School are the First Presbyterian Church, First Christian Church, St. Ann's Catholic Church, Chapel of St. George (Episcopal), St. Paul's Lutheran Church and the United Methodist Church.

The Ecumenical Vacation Church School will run June 11-14 and June 18-21 for children age 3 on or before September 1, 1973 through the fourth grade level. Fifth and sixth grade level students will be having a day camp VCS in Palo Duro Canyon June 10-14.

Calvary Baptist Church has set a Vacation Bible School there for July 22-26 as a late summer offering.

The First Assembly of God Church in Canyon will have a Children's Revival during the summer months rather than a traditional Vacation Church School.

VBS information for several churches have not been completed yet including the Grace Baptist Church, Canyon Church of the Nazarene and Faith Chapel.

Not planning VBS activities this year are the Canyon Hills Church of Christ, United Pentecostal Church and the Southside Baptist Church.

Boy Born To Bryan Poffs

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Poff of Canyon became the parents of a boy Friday.

Bryan Poff III was born at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo and weighed 7 pounds 11 ounces at birth. He measured 20½ inches in length.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Knight of Wichita Falls. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Bryan Poff of Fort Worth.

The Poffs have three girls, Laura, 13, Cynthia, 11, and Sarah, 5.

Poff is state representative from this area and a candidate for the judgeship of the 47th District Court.

Stretch And Sew Offered By CISD

"Stretch and Sew" will be offered by the Community Education program of the Canyon Independent School District. The class is scheduled to meet every Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Canyon High School.

Classes begin June 5 and will run through the month of June. Minimum age for the class is 14 years. The cost of the course is $15 per person. Enrollment is open to youth and adult.

Those interested in taking the course are asked to mail or take their check to Ken Hart, Vocational Director, Canyon I.S.D. Drawer 899, Canyon, Tex., a receipt will be mailed immediately. If further information is needed, call Ken Hart at 655-2169.

All checks are to be made payable to Community Education, Canyon I.S.D.

Youth Rally Set In Canyons June 1

An associational "youth rally" is set for Saturday evening, June 1, in Palo Duro Canyon with all youths invited to participate.

The First Baptist Church of Canyon conducts Bible study for junior high youth at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday evenings in the Youth Activities Building in the city and on Monday nights a Bible-rap fellowship is held at 1216 Ninth Avenue for youth.

Starting June 12, the youths will have Wednesday evening meetings from 7:15 to 8:00 with drama and puppetry for all interested and on Thursday evenings, beginning June 13, the youths will visit throughout the city and afterward will gather at Conner Park for recreation and competitive games including baseball, volleyball and others of interest.

Camp Summer Life Open To All Youth

Camp Summer Life, a non-denominational camp for youth, will be held August 5-10 with registration forms presently available and being taken at the church office of the First Baptist Church here.

The registration deadline date is July 7 and cost per participant will be $35. Camp activities will include riflery, archery, arts and crafts, horseback riding, tennis, trampoline, canoeing, hiking, baseball, and golf.

Visiting Local Folks

Mrs. James Risner and two children from Oklahoma are visiting in the Canyon area with his parents and grandparents here.

Mrs. Risner has been visiting in the James (Peck) Risner mobile home at Siesta Trailer Park, north of the city, and has been a houseguest of her husband's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dodson, in the city. James is expected to arrive here for visiting later this week.

Brother Signs Net Scholarship At West Texas State University

Wayne Marsh, younger brother of West Texas State University tennis standout Bill Marsh, has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with Buffalo coach David Kent to play tennis.

Marsh, like his older brother, has attended Cowley County Junior College in Arkansas City, Kan., for two years. The older Marsh just completed his second and final year for the Buffaloes.

At the Missouri Valley Conference meet last week in Denton, Bill teamed with freshman Steve Johnson to win the doubles championship in the number one division. He played number one in singles for both years at West Texas.

Wayne, 6-1 and 140, will be a junior this fall. He has twice won the Kansas state junior college singles championship and has teamed with Jim Cannon two years to capture the doubles crown.

This past spring Wayne won the Navarro Junior College Invitational singles championship and the Cowley County Invitational singles championship.

He is slated to play in the National Junior College Tournament June 4-8, in Ocala, Fla.

An honor student in both high school and junior college, Wayne is a chemistry major.

"Wayne is just like his brother," said Kent. "He has tremendous potential. When he plays against good competition every day in practice, he will blossom into an outstanding collegiate player. He has the same type of game as his brother."

Marsh is the first signee of the spring for coach Kent, who watched his Buffaloes roll to their third MVC title in four years in Denton.

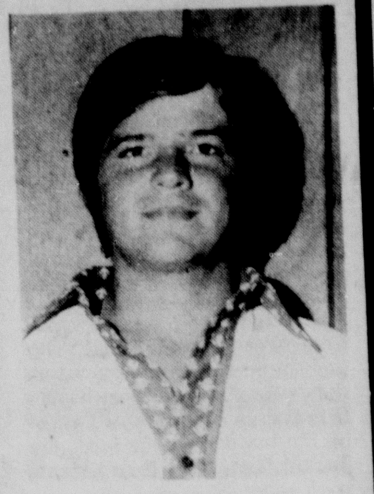
Lair Signs With OSU



Ed Lair

Ed Lair, graduating senior at Canyon High School, has signed a letter of intent with Oklahoma State University. Lair will be on a baseball scholarship at the school.

Lair, who has a six win, two loss record for this past year, said that he is looking forward to the coming year at OSU. Lair visited the campus last season and watched OSU play Missouri. Though OSU did not win the conference, Lair feels that he will be playing with a good team with good potential.

Lair was primarily a pitcher and short stop for the Eagles this year.

Bob Sloan, head baseball coach for the Canyon High Eagles, said that he felt Lair should get to throw some for OSU his freshman year and that Lair should start the other three years.

Sloan feels that Lair should be able to work his way into an infield position.

Sloan said that as far as he knows, this is the first baseball scholarship awarded to a Canyon High graduate.

Girls Softball

Happy has been added to the major league Kiwanis Girls Softball league.

There will also be two Happy teams and three Canyon teams in the minor league of Girls Softball.

Thinking Man's Player Picks WTSU First

John Jacobi is a thinking man's football player.

"Big John" of West Texas State University's football squad, picked this school in the first place because head coach Gene Mayfield levelled with him.

"Coach Mayfield told me he would like for me to come to West Texas but that I could take my time about making up my mind," recalls John. "He didn't do any midnight calling to my house to pressure me into things. I thought it over and decided to play for West Texas State."

Jacobi, a 6-6, 245-pounder, uses the same thought processes on the football field. He thinks before he even goes to the field.

"I started a great deal of time last fall as a sophomore," said Jacobi. "I had to give myself a talking to prior to each game. I had to make myself realize that anyone I lined up against was going to be at least as good as me and maybe better. With those thoughts in mind, I was better able to keep myself in the right frame of mind to explode off of the line each time the ball was snapped.

"When you think you are better than the fellow across from you, that is when you are going to be whipped."

Jacobi came to West Texas State as a 217-pounder, up 12 pounds from his high school playing weight at Electra, Tex., High School.

When Jacobi started at offensive tackle after the first game of the 1973 season he started a trend for the year. By mid-season another sophomore, Jeff Lloyd, had joined him at the other offensive tackle berth.

Lloyd, who is from Emporium, Pa., is 6-6 and 230. He was converted from tight end to offensive tackle at mid-season.

A high school halfback, Lloyd came to West Texas as a tight end. Other injuries forced him to be moved to an interior line position.

Like Jacobi, Lloyd has above average speed. The former high school basketball standout can run the 40-yard dash in 4.8. Jacobi manages the distance in five seconds flat, which is still excellent speed for a man of his size.

Jacobi says size and speed isn't everything in football.

"I had rather block on a big, fast fellow than a small, fast man," said Jacobi. "Against Pampa I was trying to block on a small defensive end. He played back away from the line of scrimmage and gave me fits all night trying to catch him.

"Usually a small, fast defensive lineman is out there on the field because he has that something extra. He's scrappy and tough."

As for blocking, John uses his brain on that subject also.

"There is usually more than one way to skin a cat. If you can't seem to get a fellow blocked one way, there are other techniques to get him blocked out of the play. You just have to keep your cool and think while you are on the field."

Lloyd says offensive line coach W.P. "Chop" Van Pelt is strong in his teaching of blocking techniques.

"Extreme size or quickness by a defensive lineman can be overcome to a great extent by using proper blocking techniques," said Lloyd.

Both Lloyd and Jacobi have been slowed by injuries during this spring training period. Lloyd has had an injured toe and Jacobi is presently out with a knee injury.

"John and Jeff have the potential to be outstanding college tackles because of their size and movement," said Van Pelt. "I felt they stepped in as sophomores and did a better than adequate job. It is difficult for young offensive linemen to start at the major college level because so much good play must come with experience."

HAPPY NEWS

Happy's '74 Senior Classmates Have Plans For Future

By MARY NEAL HENRY

SENIORS OF '74 graduated last Friday evening from Happy High. This marks not only the first week of summer vacation for Happy, but the first week of a new class of ex-students.

Karen Hinton, class valedictorian, Mary Ann Sims, salutatorian, and Rhonda Fellers, editor of the 1974 Round-Up, will be attending Texas University in Austin this fall.

Going somewnere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it — and so do its readers.

Jana Wallace, Brenda Dietz, and Dana Cheek plan to attend WTSU. Tim McNeill, Bobby Moudy and Greg Looney will attend Lubbock Christian College. Tommy Tipps will attend Tech in Lubbock. Vicki Hamblen, has been accepted by McMurry College in Abilene. Marilyn Venhaus will attend Amarillo College and Gracie Herrera, Trinity University in San Antonio.

Cathy Howell is employed in Gibson's of Canyon. Andy Hand is employed at Consumers Supply in Happy. Kay Spear LeMar, now living in Amarillo, also graduated with this group and is already in the business that is the foundation of America, that of homemaking. Congratulations!

THE LOSS OF Dr. Glen L. Robinson marked the passing of an era for Happy. Doc came to Happy in 1939 after receiving degrees from McCook Junior College, Kansas City Co-College, and Kansas City. College of Osteopathy and practicing in Amarillo as an associate of Dr. Lester Vick and Dr. L.V. Cradit. During World War II Doc was a chief pharmacist's mate in the U.S. Navy.

Doc was named Happy's Outstanding citizen in 1968. He had served Happy not only as their doctor, but as mayor for 13 years, was a charter member and past president of the Lion's Club, a staunch supporter of the Boy Scouts, and everyone's friend. He received the General Practicioners Award from the Texas Association of Osteopathy in 1963. These are only a select few of the honors paid Dr. Robinson during his tenure of service to his community and country.

Dr. G.L. Robinson, 61, died on Friday, May 24th, in the Southwest Osteopathic Hospital in Amarillo. Funeral rites were Monday at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church at Happy. Officiating at the services were Dr. Winifred Moore, who had been the television pastor of Doc for the last few years and who visited him in the hospital, and Dr. Weldon Tucker, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Happy, of which Doc was a member.

Burial was in the Happy Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Jim Allison, Ed Wright, Gary Culp, Gene Shipman, Ricky Harman, Lloyd Rahlfs, Randy Johnson, David Penn, Don Ed Middleton, George Tirey, and Hobie McManigal. Honorary pallbearers included Frank Tirey, Tommy Sexton, Foster Harman, Si Elliott, S. N. Wright, Carl Small, Cone Johnson, Dick Railsback, J.B. Sexton, Everett Culp, Williard Middleton, Bob Loudder, Jack Driskill, Robert Lee, John F. Toles, Ervin Wilson, Copus Boyd, Harry Hardaway, and Vernon Harman.

Dr. Moore said of Dr. Robinson that like the Great Physician, he treated the whole man. I agree with that. Doc always had time to take care of one's needs... a child who wouldn't open her mouth and let you see her throat, a head injury late at night after a football game, an eye sewed up, even in his last months of life after he had closed the doors to his practice, Doc tended the needs of those who sought his advice. He even put a clamp on a little girl's leg — to save a trip to a nearby town for care. He helped . . . no matter what the hour of the day or of life.

Our sympathy to his wife, Anna Bee, and son, Bob, now living in Amarillo with his bride of only a few months, Karen. Doc is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Iva Henderson of McCook, Neb.; two sisters, Mrs. Mitchell Longnecker of Maywood, Neb. and Mrs. Maxine Nitzell of Grand Island, Neb. and a brother, Dale of Kearny, N.Y.

HAPPY'S FIFTH ANNUAL Junior Rodeo sponsored by the Happy Rodeo Association is this week end, May 31, June 1 and 2nd. Friday and Saturday evening performances will begin at 8 p.m. and the Sunday afternoon performance will begin at 2 p.m.

Two trophy saddles will be given the All-Round Cowboy and All-Round Cowgirl. Belt buckles will also be given in each division. Money will be paid back to all three older groups. Children under 12 will be competing for the trophy buckles. If you aren't entered, you'd better call Don Magness, 764-2445, or Wendy Sims, 558-3381, today.

Dances at the Happy Jaycee Hall will provide entertainment both Friday and Saturday nights. Barry Thatcher and the Happy Mediums will provide the music.

* * *

SHERRY STARKEY, VALERIE Tipps, and Debbie Magness will participate in the Tri-State High School Rodeo Finals in Amarillo next week end, June 7 and 8th. Sherry will be entered in barrels, poles and steer riding. Valerie will be entered in steer riding and Debbie will be competing in pole bending. Good luck, girls!

* * *

WEATHER HAS BEEN the big news lately. East of Happy, Wayside and Vigo Park areas have had heavy rains and hail of varying sizes and density. West of Happy has continued to be arid. . . Well, anyway, some people have had moisture in our vicinity. Some, more than they'd like and others not enough. But out near Arney, they haven't had rain, but they haven't had hail, either.

* * *

RUTH AIKENS AND Jewell McGehee visited the Charlie Knox family in Arkansas recently. Ruth says that it rained on them most of the time they were traveling and all the time that they were in Gravitt.

* * *

A GOOD CROWD attended the annual Memorial Day Service in Wayside on Sunday. At least three states were represented in the McGehee family alone, that of New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado. Visiting was most enjoyable and the message of Brother Keith Wiseman of Panhandle was very good.

* * *

CAMMA LOU AND Larry Tackitt and Willa Jane and Jim McManigal have just returned from a week's visit to Mexico City and the surrounding area where they were guests of those buyers in that area. Mrs. Winnie Tackitt of Panhandle stayed with the Tackitt boys while their parents were away.

HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES HONORED their mothers with a Mother-Daughter Banquet on Wednesday evening of last week in the beautiful country home of Jeanne (and Ronnie) Johnson. President Skip Simons welcomed the group and explained that all our mothers had done so much for us that we wanted to show our love and appreciation. Every Jaycee-Ette presented her mother with a corsage to wear for the evening. Judy Shipman gave the invocation.

Salads of all descriptions were served buffet style. Tables of four seated everyone throughout the living room and master bedroom.

Jaycee-Ettes and mothers included Susan Rahlfs and Loraine McDonald (Susan had also asked Modenia Rahlfs, but she was unable to attend); Judy Shipman and Gracie Lee Tirey and Inez Shipman; Jeanne Johnson (and Gracie Lee) and Sweetie Johnson; Doretta Anderson and Beth Simpson; Betty Stockett (and Beth) and Dorothy Stockett; Cindy Starkey and Nora McGavock and Lavelle Starkey; Dotty Foster and Eva Brockman of Guymon, Okla.; Donna Bryan and Jean Fowler; Sara Tirey and Ora Mary Sims; and Mary Neal Henry and Oma Hayes of Amarillo; and Jaycee-Ettes and guests included Skip Simons and Lenna Parker of Canyon; LaVenna Jackson and Mary Jane Miller; Kaye Venhaus and Lena Belle Cabe; Della Venhaus and Marie Venhaus of Nazareth; and Joy Freeman.

Crazy bridge was the entertainment for the evening. Ora Mary Sims won high prize, a musical instrument. Betty Stockett beat everyone out of the plastic water gun that was presented for low score.

MRS. HOBART (Anna Mae) McManigal, who has honored her husband with 40 consecutive birthday parties, entertained with the climaxing birthday party recently. (Anna Mae says that Hobart is not getting too old for these parties, but she is). The centerpiece for the occasion and panoroma of pictures in the background depicted Hobart's life. The centerpiece was a windmill and Hobart's brand, a duck outline. The panaroma of pictures included ones of framing, windmills, cattle, flowers, bird hunts, children and grandchildren, and birthday parties from over the years.

Anna Mae welcomed the guests. Their daughter Mrs. H.L. (Jean) Rowell of Tulia gave the invocation in thankfulness for her parents, friends and the food. Jean, Dixie (the daughter-in-law) and Jean Anne, their lovely granddaughter, served the steak dinner to the guests. Hobie McManigal and wife, Dixie, and two daughters, Kim and Kay (quite young) made the special trip from Artesia, N.M. to be present for their dad's birthday party. Another daughter, Anne, called from California. Anne wanted to come, but let her parents talk her out of it because of the great distance.

Barry Thatcher of Canyon was also unable to attend.

Those who did enjoy the festive occasion, dinner party and "42," were Hobie McManigal of Artesia, N.M.; H.L. Rowell and young son, John; John Brown, T.L. Fore, and Fowler E. McDaniel, all of Tulia; Boone McClure, Glen Dowlen, Vernon Harman, Conway Kuykendall, and Mack White, all of Canyon; Dan Rahlfs of Amarillo; Edwin Goose Raney of Dimmitt and his driver, J.B. Noland of Summerland; and Morlan McManigal, Ernest White, O.H. Rahlfs, Pat Maynard, Jim McManigal, Bob Francy, Dee Taylor, George Rhalfs, John F. Toles, Dick Railsback, and John Butler of Happy. Those who know Anna Mae know how very fortunate Hobart is to have chosen her to be his life partner. And we wish you many more Happy Birthdays.!

CATHY PARKER, DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Parker, was installed Worthy Advisor of the Happy Rainbow Assembly on Saturday evening. Cathy chose "ASPIRATION" as her theme; pink and white for her colors; and the pink rose and white daisy for her flowers. Her scripture is Jeremiah 29:13: "And ye shall seek me and find me when ye shall search for me with all your heart." Her motto is "Reach high, for the Pot of Gold is hidden in your soul. Dream deep, for every dream precedes the goal." The Pot of Gold at the end of every rainbow is Cathy's symbol. Her song, "Climb Every Mountain," was sung by Mrs. Wanda Winn. Bouquets of pink roses and white daisies decorated the Masonic Hall. Each rainbow girl carried a white daisy tied with white ribbon or the color of her station.

Mary Ann Sims was the Installing officer. Other installing officers were Marshall, Beverly Dowd; Chaplain, Connie Hand; Recorder, Sheri Henry; and Musician, Cortez Dowlen, Grand Organist, Grand Chapter of Texas, OES.

Brenda Parker, and Debbie Parker, sisters of the Worthy Advisor, and Lissa Foster, cousin, sat at the guest book. Janet Foster, Nancy Woods, and Susan Cope ushered guests to their seats. Refreshments of pink punch and jelly roll were served from crystal appointments to about 100 members and guests.

Hostesses for the occasion were the Advisory Board members: Faye Parker, Ora Mary Sims, Evelyn Dowd, Mary Beth Stubblefield, Lynelle Andrews, Louese White, Alden Mann, Willa Jane McManigal, Evelyn Shipman, Ruth Sims and W.T. Robinson.

Special guests for the occasion were Debra Cassels, Grand Representative of Pennsylvania to Texas, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Rainbow for Girls; Cortez Dowlen, Grand Visitor; Evelyn Shipman, Worthy Matron of the Happy Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star; Frank Tirey, Worshipful Master of the Happy Masonic Lodge; Eugene Sims, Deputy Grand Master of the 91st Masonic District; and the Advisory Board.

Out-of-town guests included Cathy's grandmothers, Lenna Parker of Canyon and Omalee Lowry of Wayside, Bea and Don Woods of Amarillo; Mariann and Debra Sassel of Dumas; and Mary and Marcia Milam of Amarillo and J.J. Lane of Wayside.

Other officers installed were Worthy Associate Advisor, Linda Railsback; Charity, Shawn Walters; Hope, Diane Johnson; Faith, Bonnie Briscoe; Chaplain, Lissa Foster; Drill Leader, Brenda Parker; Love, Debbie Parker; Religion, Kim McCaslin; Nature, Janet Foster; Immortality, Becky Stubblefield; Fidelity, Marcus Vermeire; Patriotism, Leja Grubb; Service, Susan Cope; Confidential Observer, Pam Andrews; Outer Observer, Christy McCaslin; Musician, Nancy Woods; Choir Director, Lisa Johnson. Recorder, Jan

GERALDINE AND BERYL Hamblen of Happy have four children whose birthdays are all this week. Tracy, 14-years-old, had a birthday on Monday, May 27th; Kenneth, 19, had a birthday Tuesday, May 28th; Vickie, 18 (and one of those who just graduated), celebrated her birthday Wednesday, May 29th; and Kathy, 16, has a birthday tomorrow, May 31st. Unusual? Yes! My hat is off to Geraldine if she gets four birthday cakes baked and four birthdays celebrated all this week.

KEN HENRY WON the bareback riding at Silverton Junior Rodeo last week end. Sherry Starkey won the steer riding. Other entries from Happy included J.T. Henry, Kevin Donnell, Valerie Tipps, Dennis Howell, Doug Bell, Ronnie McDonald, Neal Odom, and Becky Via. Becky Via and Valerie Tipps tied for third place in steer riding and both won buckles.

* * *

JANET FOSTER HAD a slumber (?) party on Friday night to celebrate the end of school. Marta Kay Donnell, Lissa Johnson, Debbie Parker, Dalene Prior, Susan Cope, Laura Fellers, Beverly Wilhelm and Christy McCaslin were Janet's guests.

* * *

ANOTHER GROUP OF young people swam at the third falls on Sunday afternoon.

* * *

BOB TIREY AND his children and grandchildren (three generations) visited Gracie and Frank Tirey last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tirey are from Albuquerque, rather from Estancia which is nearby. Mrs. Bob Tirey's mother, Mrs. Thompson, was also with them. Bob's and Kathy's son, Wayne and wife, Kathy, and granddaughter, Karen, from Wichita Falls, Tex., were also visiting.

CHARLES GOOD OF Elida, N.M. won the two head steer roping at the Tuffy Thompson Arena southeast of Happy last Saturday afternoon. Monroe Tomlinson and Bud Upton tied for second/third and James Allen won fourth. The first go-round was won by Jimmy Brazile with an 18.5; second, Charles Good; Monroe Tomlinson, third; and James Allen, fourth. Allen Keller won the second go-round with a time of 17.7 seconds; Tuffy Thompson, second with 17.9; Bud Upton, 18.3 and Jim Prather, 18.9. A one head jackpot that followed was won by Pecos McIntyre; second was Charles Good; third, Jimmy Brazile; and fourth, Phil French.

The annual Memorial Roping at Cobb-Wheeler-Mote Arena on Sunday was won by Charles Good of Elida, N.M., with a total time of 69.5 seconds on four steers. Sonny Davis of Kenna, N.M. won second with a 71.2; Randy Burchett of Pryor, Okla., third with 72.3; and Wade Lewis of Hereford, fourth with a total of 78.1. Firsts in the four go-rounds went to Randy Burchett with a 16.3 and a 17 seconds flat; Olin Young of Peralta with a 14.4 and a 13.7, which was the fastest steer tie of the day. Seconds in the four go's went to Bud Upton of San Angelo with 17.5, Charles Good with a 17.2, Tim Prather of Snyder with a 15, and Tuffy Thompson of Happy with a 14.2. Third places in the go's went to Billy Frank Good of Caprock, N.M., Sonny Davis, Charles Good, and Shoat Webster of Linapau, Okla. Fourths in each go-round were won by Olin Young, Troy Fort of Lovington, N.M., Sam Howell of Elida, N.M. and James Allen of Santa Anna, Tex. James Allen won that fourth in the fourth go with a 15 seconds flat. Steer roping became exciting before the afternoon ended.

OUR SYMPATHY, TOO, to the family of Pete Whitlow, who died on Tuesday afternoon in St. Anthony's Hospital. Although Pete had not been in good health, he passed away rather suddenly of an apparent heart attack. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday, May 20, at First Baptist Church of Happy with arrangements by LaGrone Funeral Home of Canyon.

Pete is survived by his wife, Hallie; a daughter, Joline Lee of Happy; and a son, Dale, also of Happy; five grandchildren, Bob and Don Lee, and Bill, Jim and Jan Whitlow; and one great-grandchild.

Hallie and I both worked in the Primary Sunday School Department in the "old" church building. I grew to know and love Hallie working with her. (That last class I taught at that time, just graduated, Hallie). Hallie and all her family are members of the First Baptist Church in Happy.

Western Windmills Art To Folks Here

By LORENA MILLER

Mrs. James Jennings has contemplated writing about windmills. She has been resigned from teaching school in Amarillo for about a year and has many photographs taken "primarily of the wooden towered windmills in Randall County."

And while we are on windmills — local artist and art instructor at the university, Jerri Warren likes to capture windmills on their ranch and throughout the country in watercolor. She made one especially for husband, Meredith, which graces the livingroom of their lovely home.

Among Mrs. Warren's windmills shown to this reporter were several angles of the same windmill — painted just as the top and wheel of the windmill, the base effect of the windmill and several full length from near and far. She said she paints mostly from photographs and sketches of her subject.

And the Jozach Byrd's sell "windmill art" at the concessions in Palo Duro Canyon each summer to varying tourists from near and far. The Byrd's windmills are made of horseshoe nails by a man in Amarillo.

Noticed another windmill art project one day over at the county judge's office where Chris Thomas, secretary to Judge Woody Pond, has her desk accented with a lovely windmill and floral arrangement assembled on a slip of rough lumber.

Talking about windmills, which seems to be a current rage in artistic circles, my own windmill plaque was made by my husband (Carl Miller) from clothesline wire and solder and is very realistic even to the detailed ladder scaling the tower.

He has also made several other windmills to scale for friends and relatives and is now experimenting with wire trees. He accents most plaques with wild yucca clumps, a tank reservoir for the windmill, and some even with fencerows.

One made recently included a wire and solder log cabin with door ajar which he said would be his "only log cabin." It is set aside to go to our daughter, Carolyn, as a special gift from Daddy for her graduation from elementary school here.

Speaking of the trees, his handiwork in that area of soldering art is a realistic tree growing from amid rocks and done in a gold wire. The rocks were fossilized rock gained one summer during a vacation rock hunting spree in Arkansas.

Shipleys Announce Son's Birth Here

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Shipley of 3623 N.E. 23rd, Amarillo, announce the birth of a son, Michael Brent Shipley, who arrived May 27 at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon weighing 6 pounds, 8 ounces and measuring 19½ inches in length.

The infant's father is drug manager at Furr's #55 in Amarillo. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Hancock and Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Shipley, both of Plainview.

Two Weeks Without God

I dreamed that God took a vacation.
He did not say where He would go.
He just packed His Spirit and left us,
Not knowing I would need Him so.

He wearied and tired of much praying
And listening to every weak plea.
Two weeks were what He's been needing
Away from the world and me.

Just then I was faced with a crisis —
My heart was in deepest despair.
My pastor, my friend, nor my neighbors
Could help with an answer to prayer.

Oh, how I just longed for His presence,
And the touch of His soothing, calm hand.
To feel He was there close beside me,
And know that He would understand.

I woke up to find out I was dreaming,
And fell on my knees and cried.
Oh, how I thanked God up in Heaven
That He was still here by my side.

Again, it is time for vacations,
I may go by land, sea, or air.
Wherever I am on the Lord's Day,
I know I shall worship Him there.

6th Graders Have Concert

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

GENE HOWE'S SIXTH grade band students treated parents and friends at their spring concert last Monday evening.

The band performed, and excellently so, under the able direction of Mr. J.W. King. These students showed marked progress since their last performance, which was good, but this one was even better.

* * *

THE ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT given to the PTA sponsored Gene Howe Night at Wonderland Park was great. As usual, school patrons came through with flying colors (and, maybe a few queasy, uneasy tummies). Lots of fun for all.

* * *

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Alton Stokes, who celebrated on the 28th.

* * *

GENE HOWELANDERS ARE regretfully saying, "Goodbye, with best wishes" to the lovely Sandra Hicks. Sandra is leaving her second grade position at Gene Howe, as handsome hubby, Jerral, will be teaching at the University of Nevada in Las Vegas. This couple has been feted on several occasions by well-wishing friends. Sandra's smiling, friendly face will be sorely missed. We wish the Hicks the very best in this new adventure.

* * *

THE CHARMING LOY Gerald, a first grade teacher at Gene Howe, is retiring from the black board set at the end of this school year. Loy is looking forward to giving hubby, Tom, a helping hand at his veterinary clinic. She also planned some exciting and interesting activities with daughter Ginger. Gene Howe will not lose this personable lady permanently though, as Ginger will be a second grader there next year.

* * *

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE Chief, Luther Lawless. Mr. Lawless was selected as "Teacher of the Day" last Friday, the 24th. Mr. L is very deserving of this recognition. Would differ with same only in the respect that he qualifies for Teacher of the Day Every Day!

* * *

TWO GENE HOWE area adult types are due belated congratulations. Pat Longhofer and Sue Morrison recently graduated from West Texas State University. (No small feat considering these ladies combined their studies with mothering and wifeing).

At the time of this writing, Pat was out of pocket, probably at the lake boating. Was able to ascertain that Sue received her degree in elementary education and received her certificate in kindergarten. Sue has been substituting in the public schools and will continue to do so until she gets a classroom all her very own.

* * *

THE NEXT CLASS sponsored by the Community Education Program to be held at Gene Howe is an upholstery class, which begins June 11th at 9:00 in the morning. The class will end July 16th and will not meet on July 4th. A holiday, you know.

The class will meet from 9 to 12 noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Students will have use of sewing machine, clamps, and various other tools, but will be instructed as to small items they will need to purchase. Instruction will be given on tools, equipment, fabrics, accessory fabrics, repair and/or replacement of springs, stuffing, patterns, cutting and installation of new covers.

Mrs. Lorraine Johnson will instruct the five week, 30-hour, course. The fee is $25 payable at the first session. Minimum age for students is 14.

* * *

GET THE SCISSORS, moms, and cut this out for future reference: Immunizations required by the state include: Diptheria/Tetanus, at least three doses, one dose since fourth birthday. Polio — minimum of three doses, one dose since fourth birthday. Rubeola (red measles) — one dose of vaccine, or history of measles. Rubella (German measles) — one dose of vaccine.

Children will not be enrolled unless all the above shots are completed by registration day this fall. This might seem a little early in the game since school is just out for this year, but sometimes we need a little time to accomplish all we need to accomplish in order to get the little darlings back in next time around. Time. Time. Time.

* * *

SPEAKING OF SCHOOL being out, as of the 31st. Youngsters will be dismissed at 2:30 today and Friday. Hope your frige and pantry are ready for the onslaught. Hope your appointments with the doc and the dentist and the optometrist are in the mill. Hope the music, swimming, tennis, etc. lessons are set up. Hope the ol' nerves are in good shape. Hope last year's ear plugs can be found before too long. Hope you have a wonderful, fun-time summer!

Citizens Support City Hall Through Contact With Voters

Citizens For Canyon, a group headed by Chamber of Commerce President John Childs to support construction of a new city hall, go into their final phase of activities this week end and Childs said he's found widespread support for the new building.

A newspaper and radio advertisement campaign will finish up the activities of the group, which was formed about two weeks ago to back construction of the new city hall.

The group is also conducting a telephone campaign to urge the more than 5000 registered Canyon voters to go to the polls Tuesday and cast their ballots for construction of the city hall.

Childs said money has been pledged to support the group's activities.

"I have a good feeling about it," Childs said of the prospect for the construction to be authorized by a citizen vote.

But, he admitted he does not expect a large voter turnout based on the history of balloting in the city. Few elections in Canyon history have attracted more than 1000 voters.

"We feel if we have 400 or 500 people out for the election it will carry based on the past voting interest in city elections," Childs said. "I've received a positive reaction from every group I've been to."

Childs said his talks with residents indicates support which is widespread and which crosses the lines of age and vocation.

"The whole gamut of citizens I've talked to have been affirmative — from businessmen, teachers, professors and college students," he said.

The Citizens For Canyon has also financed issuance of a brochure outlining the reasons for construction of a new $1.3 million city hall, explaining the financing for the construction and noting the deficiencies in the old buildings.

At mid-week no organized group opposing construction of the city hall had emerged and no active effort against the construction had been made public.

Earlier, one citizen issued a handbill implying the use of city water and sewer funds to finance construction was contrary to a city ordinance passed in 1972.

However, city attorney Elton Cox charged the handbill author with spreading half-truths about the ordinance.

No organized group against construction has filed a required statement with the city clerk. Filing of the statement is required by a new Texas law, for committees campaigning for or against a measure which will be voted upon.

Life At Siesta

Storm Damage Nil

By EARLINE BENHAM

THE STORM LAST week did no real damage to Siesta, besides the usual wind turmoil, garbage cans overturned, swings down, etc. It was reported in the Amarillo paper that two trailers were overturned at Siesta. We would like to correct this statement.

The two trailers overturned were across the highway at E-Way Mobile Homes. The parking arrangement at Siesta is planned in accordance with the wind directions. No one trailer should be hit broadside by the wind. We are very relieved that we had no real damage.

The assistant manager, John Hoffman, drove each street honking the truck horn, warning everyone to take shelter, as soon as he found out that a tornado had been spotted. We all appreciate that. Siesta has a large storm shelter at the recreation hall. We had room for everyone.

"KIDS ORGANIZE"

THE SIESTA KIDS have formed a club, elected officers, and already lost at volleyball to the Ladies Auxiliary. They will meet later this month to decide on a name for their club. They have voted to pay dues and organize competitive sports for the summer. It looks like about 90 per cent of the Siesta kids are involved in this club. They are also discussing ways to raise money for the fire department. Their sponsor is Sandy Floyd. Their officers are: president, Carol Stewart; vice president, Sally Stewart; secretary, Debbie Powell; treasurer, Jack Stewart; reporter, Gregg Ashford; sargeant-at-arms, Edward Flemmings; and parliamentarian, Darrell Brown.

Palo Duro Pair Sign With WTSU

Gary Thomas and James Rogers, a pair of Amarillo Palo Duro High School standouts, have signed scholarship agreements with West Texas State University track coach Bob Kitchens.

Both athletes competed in several events for coach Frontz Myatt at Palo Duro, but Thomas will be used as a half-miler in college and Rogers will be used in the long jump and triple jump events.

Thomas ran second in the District 3-AAAA track meet this past spring in the 880 and ran his best time — 1:59.0 — in the regional meet to place seventh.

The 5-10, 140-pound Thomas placed third in the city track meet 880 as a sophomore and ran a best of 2:03 as a junior. He ran a 50.5 leg on the mile relay at the district meet this spring.

In other events, Thomas high jumped 6-0 and had a best of 22.5 in the 220. During the cross country season he ran 10:25 for two miles.

Rogers, 5-11 and 150, won district in the long jump as a junior with a 21-6 effort and had a best of 22-6. He bruised his take off heel badly this spring and his best this year was a 21-6.

While Rogers' long jumping was hindered this spring, he ran a 49.2 leg on the mile relay and competed in the 880 several times — recording a best of 2:03.

"James would have gone well over 23-feet in the long jump this spring if it had not been for his injury," said Myatt. "He took off nearly two feet behind the board at the city meet when he went 21-6. He has the speed, strength and dedication to become an excellent long jumper and triple jumper in college.

"Gary found himself near the end of his senior year, so his running is all in front of him. He has the combination of speed and strength to become a good 880 man."

Thomas and Rogers are the first signees for Kitchens this spring. He plans to add several other athletes to the list of recruits.

"We are pleased with both James and Gary as they have the potential to become outstanding track men on the college level," said Kitchens.

Chicago Players Sign With WTSU

William S. Dise Jr., and Maurice Cheeks, a pair of all-city players from DuSable High School in Chicago, have signed national letters of intent to play basketball at West Texas State University.

The signing of Dise and Cheeks completes the recruiting year for coach Ron Ekker and his staff at six recruits.

The 6-6, 210-pound Dise has been one of the more highly recruited prep basketball players in the nation this spring. Cheeks, 6-1 playmaker and defensive standout on the DuSable High team, also had many scholarship offers.

Dise was a four-year starter for coach Bob Bonner at DuSable High. The high scoring and rugged rebounding Dise was named as an all-city selection both his junior and senior years by the Chicago Sun Times, the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Today. Cheeks earned those same honors his senior season.

As a freshman Dise broke into the starting lineup, averaging 12 points per game and seven rebounds. He scored 14.5 points per game as a sophomore regular and pulled in an average of eight rebounds per game.

"William started coming around as a star in his junior year, hitting 18 points per game and pulling down 12 rebounds per game," said Bonner.

This past season Dise totaled 22 points per game and averaged 18 rebounds per outing. He hit a high in both departments of 37 points and 26 rebounds against Tilden Tech.

Several weeks ago Dise earned Most Valuable Player honors in a game matching the Chicago High School All-Stars against the Suburban All-Stars. He hit 15 points and pulled 13 rebounds in that contest.

"William is the finest rebounder we have had at DuSable in the past 10 years," said Bonner. "He has great jumping ability, but also maintains body control and balance in the air. He is also a confident type of player and is willing to prove it each game."

Coach Bonner said he started Dise at a forward early in the season and the rugged youngster responded with soft shooting touch from 15 to 18 feet. As the season progressed stronger rebounding was needed inside so Dise was moved to a post position.

The 165 pound Cheeks was the point guard in DuSable's one-three-one offense this year, which resulted in a 22-6 season.

Cheeks averaged 14 points per game as a junior and 19.6 as a senior. He also averaged 6.5 assists per game. In the recent Chicago All-Stars vs. Suburban All-Stars game he totaled seven points, was credited with six assists and had five offensive rebounds.

Cheeks played with the Chicago All-Stars Thursday night in a game against the Russian National Junior team and was the hero of the game in an 82-79 Chicago victory.

Russia's all-stars held a 78-76 lead when Cheeks went on a scoring spree. He totaled the final six points for the Chicago team to ice the victory. He finished the game with nine points.

"Maurice pulled the tough defensive assignments all season," said Bonner. "He has the best pair of hands in the state."

Dise was recruited, among many others, by Michigan, Louisville, West Virginia, Illinois, Minnesota and Cincinnati. Cheeks received scholarship offers from West Virginia, Cincinnati and several other major schools.

The Buffalo coaching staff is limited to six signees by NCAA rules and the signing of Dise and Cheeks make their total six. Among the other signees are a pair of high school standouts and two junior college stars.

The junior college stars are forwards 6-6 Eugene Smith of Oklahoma City Southwestern Junior College and 6-6 Otis Young of Conners State College in Warner, Okla. The high school signees are 5-10 Frank Stingo of Fairmont, West Va., and 6-6 Willie Glover of Midland, Pa.

Skinny Running Back Turns Hefty Lineman For WT Buffs

On the films, he was a tall, skinny running back. He had good speed, so West Texas State University's football coaching staff thought he might grow to tight end size.

Jeff Lloyd took only under five seconds and then slightly over five minutes to show the Buffalo coaching staff they hadn't been gambling when they sent his scholarship to him through the mail.

The Emporium, Pa., athlete stepped on the scales upon reporting for football practice as a freshman in 1972 and the scales showed him to weigh 215 pounds — up about 15 from his high school playing days.

The 6-6 youngster then stepped off a 40-yard dash in under five seconds. After resting a short while he pushed his lanky frame around the Buffalo track four times to complete the mile run in just over five minutes.

"Look at the guy," exclaimed a Buffalo defensive coach. "Why can't I get someone on my side of the ball that can run like that."

Offensive line coach W.P. "Chop" Van Pelt took the former running back quickly into his group and started to work.

When injuries hit the Buffalo offensive line hard at mid-season in 1973, Lloyd was inserted into the starting lineup. He joined fellow sophomore John Jacobi to give the Buffaloes a pair of big, lanky tackles. While Lloyd is 6-6 and 230, Jacobi is even larger at 6-6 and 245.

Both of the sophomores came from small towns. Emporium is a small city in western Pennsylvania and Jacobi hails from Electra, Tex., a town with a Class AA high school.

The Buffalo tackle pair both have good speed. Lloyd has ripped off a 4.8 clocking in the 40-yard dash and Jacobi has been timed in 5-flat, which is well above the average for a man of his size.

"Switching from tight end to offensive tackle last fall didn't make a great deal of difference to me as it gave me an opportunity to play more often," said Lloyd.

The converted tight end said he usually blocked on a linebacker from his old position and usually blocked on a defensive end as a tackle.

"Some of those linebackers were hard to block, because they were lined up off of the line of scrimmage and you have to be quick to get out of them," he said. "The defensive ends are usually playing on the line of scrimmage.

"Proper technique is the biggest thing for an offensive lineman to know. It isn't too hard to block a defensive player, regardless of his size, by using proper techniques."

Both Lloyd and Jacobi have been injured most of this spring training period. Jacobi suffered a knee injury and Lloyd was out for over a week with a toe injury. Lloyd returned to practice Tuesday.

"John and Jeff have the potential to be outstanding college tackles because of their size and movement," said Van Pelt. "I felt they stepped in as sophomores and did a better than adequate job. It is difficult for young offensive linemen to start at the major college level because so much good line play must come through experience. This was especially true in their cases because they both came from small high schools."

The line coach said they were able to adjust quickly because both have the right attitude and are competitive by nature.

The Buffaloes completed their second full week of spring practice. They broke after Saturday afternoon's scrimmage until April 16 as school is out for the spring vacation.

Highland HD Club Conducts Meeting

Highland Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Boyd Elliott on Hollywood Road May 22 with Mrs. Bernard Grabber, club president, in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Boyd Elliott, council delegate, gave a report of the final council meeting. Plans were made for the Highland HD Club's annual picnic to be held at the Clarence Howard home June 9 at 7 p.m. with members to bring a picnic lunch for their family.

Next regular meeting for the club will be September 11 at the home of Mrs. Siegfried Bolte in Umbarger.

Attending were Mesdames Boyd Elliott, Jones Hales, Warren Thompson, Bernard Grabber, Red Doyle, James Jenssen, Clarence Howard and Ervin Podzemny.

Infants Birth Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Don Jackson announce the May 26 birth of Shonee Tyrel who weighed 7 pounds, one ounce and measured 19½ inches on arrival at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

The Jacksons live at 236 La-Fiesta Lane in Canyon and the father is employed with Sears. They have a son, Don Dwayne, 3.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jackson of Riverside, Calif.

Patterson Begins Research

Ottis Patterson, recent graduate of Stephen F. Austin University in Nacagdoches, has been employed by Temple Industries of Diboll, Texas. Patterson received his B.S. degree in forestry from S.F.A. Mrs. Patterson is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Holladay, secondary curriculum director for the Canyon Independent School District.

Patterson will be doing research in air and water analysis throughout the southern states. He was chosen for the job from over 300 applicants.

Mrs. Patterson will be teaching in the Lufkin-Diboll area.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson attended WTSU.

Life Is Slow In Umbarger Community

"Nothing goes on down here," said Ed Wieck, Umbarger farmer, when asked what was happening in the Umbarger community. Wieck and Monsignor M. F. Schafle, who has been the parish priest for the past seven years, were sitting at the back in the Umbarger Grocery and had been discussing one of the priest's new hobbies.

Wieck recalls a time when he was asked to give a character reference for the priest to a locksmith school. Wieck said that the priest is a jack-of-all-trades. The lady in charge of the post office said that he had fixed the lock on the post office door that would enable her to lock the outside with one key and the inside with another key. The keys could not be reversed.

Umbarger, a predominantly German community, was originally started by German Catholic farmers. The priest who had led in the establishing of Nazareth, a community midway between Tulia and Dimmitt, also led in the ground work of the Umbarger community. Originally it was planned to name the community Bethlehem. The name Bethlehem appears on copies of the original plat of the town. For some unknown reason the name Umbarger was chosen because of a wagon yard and stopping station between Hereford and Canyon.

The church is the center of the community. Wieck said that the church roll was a good way to determine the population of the community. He said that a community used to be defined by walking distance but that now this was impossible to do.

In speaking of the size of the community, Wieck said that there was not as many living in Umbarger as there once was. He said that a lot of young people have left the community because of the lack of water for farm land.

The community gave up their school in 1970 when they seemed, according to Wieck, to run out of students and money. Wieck said that at one time they had a school with as many as 125 to 130 students enrolled.

Wieck said that he was living on the same farm where he was born. He said that his parents had moved here in 1920. They raised a family of seven, four boys and three girls. He said that all his brothers still live in and around Umbarger and were all farm related.

He recalled that in the 1940's and 1950's the best fishing in the country could be found outside of Umbarger at Buffalo Lake. He remembers as a child before the dam was built, he and his brothers would play near the creek. When they got thirsty, he said that they would drink from the fresh water springs there.

Hearing a train pass on the tracks across the highway from the store, the conversation turned once again to the origin of the community. Wieck said that the first people to come to Umbarger came on emigrant trains. The rest of the family would follow on the next passenger train. He said that most of the people who came from the midwest region used the train.

Wieck could remember that as a child he would watch the cattle drive coming to the stockyard at the Umbarger tracks.

He said that there used to be two or three stores in Umbarger. He recalled the time when they would sell cream and butter to the stores. In return they would receive needed food, supplies or gasoline.

Wieck said that he was not sure if he liked the new farming methods and way of life or the old ways. He said that in the old way, farmers were independent. The present way is more efficient.

He said that today, farmers are dependent on everyone else. He said that there was a lot of the happiness for the fellow tending his field and coming in tired at night. He said it would be the next day before they would read in the newspaper what had happened in the world the day before. He said that now farmers are on top of the radio at all times to know the market and the effect of world conditions on the market.

Wieck said that the cost of farming has changed. He and Raymond Batenhorst, another local farmer, recalled that in the 1930's a tractor with the "latest equipment" cost $1300 and a combine sold for $1700. Now the best tractor costs $23,000 and a combine $25,000.

Another story from the '30's that Wieck remembers is that his dad paid $15 a head for cattle, fed them on cheap grain that would not be used for anything else, took them to Kansas City to sell and lost $1000 on the deal. One cow was put back because it was too fat. The cow finally sold for three cents a pound.

Nance Ranch Gives University Interest In Top Bred Bull

West Texas State University has been given one-third interest in Emulous 6956, an intensely-bred Emulous bull, by the Nance Angus Ranch of Canyon. The Nance Angus Ranch is owned by Dr. and Mrs. Jack Nance.

The bull will be used by WTSU on the 2500-acre Nance Ranch in an intense performance program using the top-performing yearling bulls each year.

"We will turn our herd bulls over rapidly, said Don Beerwinkle, operations and breeding program director. The program is to select the top bulls, prove them and replace them with better ones each year to make the greatest improvement in the shortest time. The top bulls will be sold each year by the university as they are proved and replaced, along with the top end of the bull crop.

Emulous 6956 was sired by Emulous 7054 (CMS) by Emulous 7000 (CMS). The dam of 6956 was sired by Emulous Bob of K Pride and out of an Emulous Bob 9 dam. Emulous 6956, bred and tested by Eldon Flynn of Fittstown, Okla., had a 3.79 daily gain on an official 140-day test, and an 11.6 adjusted yearling weight. The 6956 was calved April 4, 1969, and has sired some outstanding individuals and performance cattle for the Nances.

The university has 120 registered angus mother cows at the Nance Ranch and is building a strong performance herd based on Emulous and the breeding.

Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of the WTSU School of Agriculture, assisted in initiating the Murray Bull Test at Tishomingo and operated the Murray State station until moving to West Texas State University in 1958. Dr. Smallwood tested the first Emulous cattle of Carlton and Murray Corbin, and is familiar with the bred-in performance of the bull donated to WTSU.

"The Emulous cattle have a very high percentage of top performing individuals in the line," said Smallwood, "we are getting calves on the ground now sired by the 6956 out of Emulous Arrowhead 014, a son of Emulous Master 209. Other sires being used are Geordus of BAR 1582, a high performing Burch bull, and two sons of Lodge of Wye.

Dr. and Mrs. Nance established their herd at Ada, Okla., while he was on the faculty of E. Central State. He moved to WTSU as associate professor of education in 1971, bringing his Emulous cattle with him. Dr. and Mrs. Nance operate a small irrigated farm utilizing the water in a forage production system for the registered herd.

West Texas State University operates the Nance Ranch and herds as a teaching and research laboratory for their 500 graduate and undergraduate students in the School of Agriculture. The Department of Animal Science has approximately 200 majors who utilize the ranch and livestock in a variety of ways during their four years at the university. Approximately 70 per cent of all of the graduates of agriculture from West Texas State University go to work in the vast feedlot, purebred, or agri-business of the region and state.

Standout Basketball Player Signs West Texas State Intent Letter

Eugene Smith, a standout basketball player from Hobbs, N.M., and Southwestern Junior College in Oklahoma City, has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at West Texas State University.

The 6-5½, 200-pounder was a two-year all-stater at Hobbs, N.M., High School before going to Southwestern Junior College. In his one year at Southwestern he earned all-conference and all-regional honors.

Smith was a key factor in Southwestern compiling a 25-10 season record this past year. He averaged 20.6 points per game and 14 rebounds. He sank 46 per cent of his field goal attempts.

The quick-moving forward hit a high of 37 points this past season against the Oral Roberts University Junior Varsity. He tallied 33 points against Region V winner Hill County and scored 35 against a strong St. Gregory Junior College team.

Smith was named Most Valuable Player in the Amarillo College Tournament, which was won by Southwestern. He earned first team honors in the Bi-State Conference as Southwestern placed second. Southwestern lost to the eventual champion in the semi-final round of the Region II Tournament and he was named to the all-regional team.

"Eugene is one of the better junior college players in America," said Southwestern coach Arlon Beadles. "He is extremely quick, has good hands and moves well without the ball. Because of his quickness, he was highly effective in our full-court press. He should be a standout player in the Missouri Valley Conference."

At Hobbs High School, under coach Ralph Tasker, Smith was one of the key men in Hobbs taking fourth in the state tournament in 1972 and third in 1973. Hobbs won over 20 games each of those two seasons.

As a junior at Hobbs he averaged 16.3 points per game. He supported a 20-point per game scoring mark and averaged 14 rebounds per game as a senior.

Smith was named to the all-state teams both his junior and senior seasons. He was selected to play on the North-South all-star game squad after his senior year. As a senior he was an honorable mention All-American pick.

"Eugene took coaching as well as any player I've had at Hobbs," said Tasker. "His strongest point was probably the fact that he was highly competitive. The tougher the going got, the tougher Eugene became. He is just a fine young man as a person and as a player."

Eugene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith. He is a sociology major.

Jennings Grandson Killed In Accident

William (Bill) Dupree, 17, was killed Friday night, May 24, while a passenger in an automobile accident in Buckeye, Arizona.

The youth who had just completed his junior high school year at Buckeye was the son of Clifton (Hank) Newberry, Jr. and his wife, Doris Ann, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Worth Jennings, Jr. of Canyon.

Other survivors include a twin brother, Alan Worth Newberry; an older brother, James Newberry, and a younger sister, Lynn.

Economics Course Added At WTSU

Dr. R. P. Muir, West Texas State University professor of economics, has announced the addition of a new course in economics to the school curriculum.

Economics 101, Current Economic Issues, will be offered for the first time during the first summer session 1974. It will meet five days a week at 9:00 a.m. starting June 4, and can be registered for by any college student, June 3.

Dr. Muir, who will teach the course, outlined its goals: "Economics 101 is designed for every man and every woman — the non-majors. It is aimed at producing an intelligent consumer, an informed voter, and a good citizen; one who can consume in his best interest and get the most out of his dollar."

Issues such as inflation, poverty and welfare, the dollar crisis, the energy crisis, and price controls will be discussed in the course this summer, but Dr. Muir remarked that the topics will change as problems change.

"We hope to see this course continued — even made a graduation requirement," said the professor. "Very few Americans — less than 4 per cent to be exact — have any training in economics at all. This course is designed to combat some of that ignorance."

Student Receives Ault Scholarship

Glenda Holladay, student at St. John's College in Santa Fe, New Mexico, was named recipient of the Ault academic scholarship at St. John's.

She has been the recipient of the Southwest Scholars scholarship annually since her enrollment. The two scholarships will give her a combined total of $2000 for her college studies.

During the summer she will be working on campus at St. John's.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Holladay, secondary curriculum director for the Canyon Independent School District.

Funeral Services Set For Whitlow

Pete Whitlow, 70, died Tuesday afternoon at 4:45 p.m. at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Born July 5, 1903, at Detroit, Tex., Whitlow moved to Happy from Dimmitt in 1944.

He married Hallie Patterson at Plainview April 26, 1927.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Happy. He had been a grain dealer all his life until his retirement in 1965. He retired because of ill health.

Funeral services are set for the First Baptist Church in Happy at 2 p.m. today with the Rev. Paul Heil, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial will be in Happy Cemetery.

Active pallbearers include Foster Parker, Bob McDonald, Bobby G. Odom, Carl Sims, Carol Sims, M.L. McFarland, Burl Sims and Bob Patching.

Honorary pallbearers are Alden Mann, Marvin Carlile, Burrell Evans, Bob Sims, Bill Sims, John Sims, O.K. McDonald, Homer Kinsey, Walter Graham, Charles Poff and Floyd Tomlinson.

Survivors include his wife, Hallie of the home, one daughter, Mrs. Joline Lee of Happy; one son, Dale Whitlow of Happy; one brother, Homer Whitlow of Kress; three sisters, Mrs. Lois Stringer of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Jim Drake of Carlsbad, N.M., and Mrs. Louise Kemp of Dimmitt. Five grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

The family requests that memorials go to favorite charities.

LaGrone Funeral Chapel is in charge of the arrangements.

Our World

Whence Justice

By ANN BROWN

For nearly a century, Americans were proud of their Republic: a nation of laws that guaranteed "domestic tranquility and justice" for all its citizens.

But gradually the people relaxed their vigilance, and unscrupulous lawyers, for the love of money, began to twist the laws into meaningless gobbledegook. The twisting continued until our laws have been woven into a blanket of protection for the guilty.

Woe unto any honest man who lands in the courtroom. Perjury was once considered a crime. Now the courts encourage — often demand — a guilty man to plead innocent.

The fact that deranged people may plead guilty to crimes they have not committed has been used as a blanket excuse to exclude all guilty pleas unless corroborated.

The wall of protection for the guilty has become so thick it has excluded their innocent victims from any protection at all.

We are currently embroiled in another Civil War. This time no regional lines are drawn; the battle is between the lawless and the law-abiding — nationwide. And as in 1861, the federal government is solidly behind the aggressors.

The excuse given for the long, cruel, bloody war of brother against brother that slaughtered more than 4 million Americans was to preserve the Union. Actually, however, the South WAS excluded from the Union — not on the terms they asked in seceding, but on terms dictated by their conquerors.

The once proud, gracious, and affluent South has been laboring for over a hundred years under burdens unknown to their northern neighbors: total military, political, and financial defeat.

Prior to the Civil War 10 of the 16 Presidents of the U.S. were from the South. Of the 21 Presidents elected since the Civil War, not one has been a Southerner. Only two had any claim to Southern roots.

Woodrow Wilson was born in Virginia, but he was governor of New Jersey when nominated for President. And Lyndon Johnson was from Texas, but he manifested no concern for problems peculiar to the South.

At least, the federal government purportedly supported the North against the South to preserve the Union. What reason could it possibly have for favoring the criminal element against their victims?

According to the FBI, violent crime has increased more than 200 per cent in the last 10 years. Murder has doubled; robbery has gone up 300 per cent, and rape has increased more than 400 per cent.

The opponents of the death penalty cite the 6th Commandment and the sanctity of human life as their reasons. This is another instance of "a little learning" being "a dangerous thing."

More than 140,000 Americans have been murdered since the last murderer was executed. Were their lives not sacred?

And the 6th Commandment does not say in the original Hebrew "Thou shall not kill." It said, "Thou shall not murder."

Hampered as they are by the courts, our police do arrest the majority of the perpetrators of violent crimes. But to what purpose? Felons frequently spend less time behind bars than it takes the police to put them there.

Murder, rape, and robbery may never be eliminated, but they can be curtailed. Killing in self defense has never been classified as murder. Unless the courts return to meting out punishment to fit the crimes, an enraged citizenry will eventually begin to fight back.

But mobs, whether rioting or ruling, seldom dispense much justice.

If thieves and robbers were made to work in prison until they had reimbursed their victims, American property would soon be safe again.

In Malaysia, where all convicted murderers are reportedly executed, they have a murder rate of 0.2 compared to our 9 per cent.

There is also a guaranteed method of preventing the repetition of rape. And that kind of justice would be an effective deterrent that would make our streets and parks safe again for women and children.

Where justice goes, tranquility automatically follows.

The New Game Show

By CARROLL WILSON

India's hungry thousands have finally stepped into the 20th Century with the advent of two Western inventions.

They may not have a square meal a day, but they've got television in their villages and a nuclear cloud over their heads.

Almost simultaneously last week, news media reported that India had successfully figured out what atomic energy is all about and had placed fifty TV sets in the village square of the more distant Indian provinces to help feed the minds if not the bodies of the still primitive natives.

The nuclear power, the Indians tell the world, is for "peaceful" purposes. And, the TVs are to help teach Indians, many of whom exist on less than 10 cents per day, better farming methods and so on.

We hear, though, that the favorite Indian television program since the introduction of the tube is a half-hour mid-morning game show called "Let's Make a Deal."

The typical show, we understand, goes something like this:

A group of 12 children, decked out in mouse ears, white sweat shirts and pleated dresses and long slacks hold hands as they skip on camera singing the show's theme song "Every Cloud Must Have a Silver Lining." After the final chorus, the smallest child, two front teeth missing and his stomach distended with malnutrition, steps forward to introduce the show's host, Tajma Hall.

Taj bounces onto the screen to the riotous applause and shouts of the audience.

"Good morning, ladies and gentlemen," he coos into the microphone. "Today's show is sponsored by the United States of America and the Soviet Union and is dedicated to the Red Chinese.

"But, before we get on with our game let's give a big hand to our children's choir. They're the newest members of the Nuclear Club and they're going to give us a rousing chorus of their club song.

The children with appropriate gestures and dance steps break into "Atomic Bomb," sung to the famous old tune of the Mickey Mouse Club of American fame:

"Who's the leader of the gang that's after you and me?

"ATO-MIC B-O-M-B. Atomic Bomb. Atomic Bomb.

"Forever let us look up to the sky.

"Come along and join the fun, it may kill you and me.

"ATO-MIC B-O-M-B."

"Now folks," grins Taj into the screen as the children skip offscreen, "Let's get on with 'Let's Make a Deal.' "

The scenario for the show, as you know, follows a series of trades, bad jokes and tasteless jibes and climaxes in the day's "Big Deal."

"Today's Big Deal," Taj tells his TV viewers, "is a biggie. Behind one curtain on our stage we have 600 million lives, an almost wrecked national economy and Indira Ghandi.

"Now let's see who's going to be playing for that big deal."

Taj strolls through the wildly waving and antsy audience and picks three participants for the big deal of the day.

"Sir," he says pointing to a man dressed in red, white and blue striped suit capped by a striped and starred top hat. "Yes, you. Stand up and tell us your name. Alright, now sir. I'll give you what's behind one of those three curtains on our stage if you've got a how-to-make-your-own-nuclear-weapons-kit in your billfold."

The starred-and-striped gentleman fumbles for his back pocket.

"While you look there, let's move on to another contestant," says Taj and he steps across the aisle to a man with slanty eyes decked out in Mao jacket.

"And, you, sir, I've got the same deal for you — whatever's behind one of those curtains on our stage if you've got a how-to-make- your- own- nuclear- weapons-kit in your billfold. Remember, today's big deal is behind one of those curtains."

As the second contestant fumbles in his billfold, riffling past drivers license, social security card and draft card, Taj moves down the aisle to pick the third contestant.

A husky man decked out in 1950s-style suit is gesturing wildly with his right shoe in his hand. Two body-guards are blasting automatic weapon fire into the air.

"You sir, yes you with the shoe in your hand. I've got the same deal for you — a curtain for a kit."

After a pause for station identification, Taj appears on the screen surrounded by the three contestants for the big deal of the day.

But, the show fades out without the viewer learning who the big winner is as Taj is pulled this way and that by the three contestants, each shouting in his ear that they have found the kits in their billfolds but are willing to negotiate.

"We'll throw in an F-4 Phantom Jet," screams Mr. Stars and Stripes as he grips Taj's coatsleeve.

"We'll give you 50 tractors and a plow," shouts Mr. 1950s suit, tugging at Taj's trouser cuff.

"We'll offer. . . .

Letter To The Editor

Thanks To City

Dear Carroll,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for your kind and patient assistance in the "Mr. and Mrs. X" problem. I would also like to thank you for the tactful manner in which you presented the case to the public, thus avoiding possible, unnecessary embarrassment.

As for the people of Canyon who responded to the problem, I do not think there is any way they can be adequately thanked, either by me or by Mr. and Mrs. X. Canyon's response to a plea for help was (to my car springs, at least) overwhelming, a graphic material and spiritual demonstration that the cynics are wrong: there is still love and generosity in abundance in this country.

As for Mrs. X, she (you'll pardon the expression) has her work cut out for her now. It was a very warming experience to watch her tearfully sort through the fine materials donated to her. I am happy to say that she is now hard at work finishing up several pieces of work she began some months ago. For those who asked about Mrs. X doing some specialized work for them, I can only quote her reply, which means little to my uneducated ear, but may be clear to others: "I can't thimble very well." I am still working on those special requests and will notify you when I find out something.

Again, my deepest thanks and appreciation to Canyon and the Canyon News. If I can ever be of service to either, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely yours,
Jim Couzzourt, PWWI

Unfair To Don Todd

Dear Mr. Martin:

The older generations insist young people should get involved in their government, but woe unto them if they don't happen to agree with the ruling powers. There seems to be room for yes men only.

The ridicule and accusations hurled at Dr. Donald Todd in last Sunday's Canyon News would tempt us all to refrain from any participation in civic affairs if we didn't have to keep on paying the bills. I doubt, however, if anyone who knows the facts thinks any less of Dr. Todd, or any more of the editorial policies of your paper.

Knowing your reputation of fair play, I expect to see either a list of your misrepresentations that Dr. Todd and any other citizens are supposed to have made, or an apology for the abuse that has been heaped upon them.

Sincerely,
Patricia Tilger

Burglaries on rise here; chief asks locals' help

Burglaries of homes, businesses and new buildings under construction are on the increase in Canyon, Police Chief Al Stewart said last week.

Stewart said burglaries of establishments are rising throughout the Panhandle area.

He said statistics indicate a national trend in the increase of burglaries.

Stewart said he feels the state of the national economy has an impact on the number of burglaries committed.

He said inflation and the higher cost of living may be forcing some persons with marginal incomes into the criminal realm to make ends meet.

Only a handful of the burglaries committed in Canyon have been cleared by arrest, Stewart said, because burglary is one of the hardest crimes to solve.

"There are no witnesses," he said. "It's not a crime of emotion, it's usually planned, and if they're good they won't leave any evidence and will probably have a fence lined up to get rid of the stuff quickly."

Stewart said several major burglaries have occurred in the city in the last nine months.

Several homes under construction in the Hunsley Hills area were hit last fall. In addition, more recently the golf pro shop was burglarized in that area.

A downtown drugstore has been burglaized twice in recent months with large amounts of drugs taken in each entry.

The new Canyon hospital was recently burglarized with about $2000 worth of tools and supplies taken.

Several other homes have also been burglarized.

While burglaries may be on the rise in the city, Stewart said there has also been an increase in the awareness of citizens to the dangers of burglary.

"There's been a tremendous change in Canyon," he said. "When I first came here I worked the midnight shift and sometimes we'd find 10 or 15 businesses with their doors open. Now, it's rare to find one."

Even so, says the chief, residents of Canyon need to become more aware that their homes could be potential targets for burglary.

"When people think of 'Support Your Police,' they usually think of that as a pay raise or something like that," he said. "But, we can exist without their support" in other areas.

Areas such as being more watchful of their neighbors' homes and property and more suspicious of strange trucks or vehicles in the neighborhood.

Stewart said citizens who note a strange truck or vehicle or person in their neighborhood should not hesitate to call police.

He admitted that in many cases such calls can be embarrassing because there is no foul play involved, but he said such calls could also save residents the problems of being burglarized.

Coed Named Price Aide

Miss Laura J. SoRelle, a senior next year at West Texas State University in Canyon, has been appointed to a summer congressional intern position in the Washington office of Congressman Bob Price.

Price appointed her to a one-month intern position to begin August 1. The program is designed to give young people a first-hand introduction to governmental operations.

Miss SoRelle is majoring in Agricultural Business and Economics at WTSU and is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority and the Rodeo Club.
